Lassie Can't Help Loving That Baby

Dog May Die for Love

LONDON (AP)—Lassie—a young and affectionate collie—may have to die because she loves a baby too much.

The baby is 11-month-old Leslie Hart.

"We don't want to have the dog put down (killed)," said Leslie's mother, Mrs. Margaret Hart, "but I'm getting worried."

She said every time the dog sees the little boy, she jumps on him, knocks him over and smother him with kisses.

"I can't afford to take a chance," explained the child's mother. "I've got to think of my baby before the dog."

Mrs. Hart is a busy mother. She has six other children. The eldest is 13. They've pleaded with their mother not to have Lassie destroyed.

"We've tried to find a home for the dog," said Mrs. Hart, "but no one seems to want her."

Mrs. Hart said if someone doesn't take the dog by Friday she will have Lassie put away.

Mrs. Hart's eldest child, 13-year-old Eric, has put a sign in the front window of his home pleading for someone to give Lassie a home.

"We're going to start paying, too," said Eric.

Federal Commons Approval VOTING AT 18

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons elections committee Thursday decided to recommend to Parliament that the voting age be lowered to 18 years from 21.

Ottawa

Little Less Gravy

OTTAWA (CP)—That "little bit of patronage" in the Elections Act apparently is on the way out.

The Commons elections committee Thursday decided to recommend that Parliament abolish a requirement that all returning officers lose their jobs automatically when Parliament makes wholesale amendments to the Canada Elections Act.

Earlier this week Frank Howard (NDP—Skeena) objected to the requirement and the committee instructed Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, to prepare changes eliminating it.

Mr. Castonguay produced the proposed changes Thursday and they were adopted by the committee, which will recommend Parliament pass them.

Without a dissenting voice, the committee approved a series of amendments to the Canada Elections Act which will place an additional 750,000 Canadians on the voting rolls if approved by Parliament.

It is understood that Commons approval of the committee's recommendation is virtually certain because of agreement among the political parties to take the step.

He said the voting age in P.E.I. elections is tied to the federal voting age. The provincial government had given an undertaking to amend the province's current voting age of 21 to bring it into line with any change in the federal voting age.

The motion to lower the voting age was made by Maurice J. Moreau (L—York—Scarborough) who drew attention to the Liberals' 1963 election campaign promise to lower the voting age.

PRIVATE BILLS

It was seconded by Frank Howard (NDP—Skeena) who has presented several private bills to Parliament in the last few years on the same subject.

Health Minister (PC—Queens) said he has no objection to the step.

LEFT BLANK

Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, informed the committee he had anticipated voting by 18-year-olds would be proposed and consequently had prepared a series of amendments to the act with the age left blank.

These were immediately put to use with age 18 inserted and the committee adopted them.

PUBLICITY

Vincent Drouin (L—Argenteuil—Deux-Montagnes) said the idea of lowering the age had received a good deal of publicity in recent years. The Liberals put it in their 1963 election platform.

Mr. Howard, at whom Mr. Drouin had aimed these remarks, said that when the elections committee last considered the idea in 1960 the Liberals were opposed to it, especially State Secretary Pickersgill.

RESERVATIONS

Mr. Macquarrie said that at that time he had reservations about the reduction but that was because he took stock of what younger electors had done in some of the provincial elections.

(Saskatchewan, which has a CCF-NDP government, has a voting age of 18. Alberta and British Columbia, which have State Credit governments, have voting ages of 19. Quebec, which has a Liberal government, lowered the age to 18 from 21 last summer.)

31 OR OVER

One consequence of lowering the voting age is that election candidates now may also come from the younger age group. At present, candidates also must be age 21 or over.

The addition of 750,000 new voters—if approved by Parliament—would at one step add more voters to the list than there now are in any one of seven of the 10 provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, P.E.I., Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

'Good Idea' —Reaction

Suggestion from Ottawa that the federal voting age should be reduced from 21 to 18 has met with approval in two quarters here.

Dean R. T. Wallace of the University of Victoria said that it was a "very good idea."

"These people are mature and reliable. They should have the opportunity to vote," he said.

Larry Devlin, president of the student council at the university, also felt that students at 18 had reached a level of maturity which justified their voting.

He said it was "fraternal" that in B.C. the voting age is 19 but federally it is 21.

He commented on the liquor laws saying that 19-year-olds can vote but must wait until they are 21 before they are allowed to drink under the laws made by the people they elected two years before.

There should be no difference between the provincial age and the federal age, he thought.

CMA Meets Cabinet

Tougher Picketing Laws Fines, Jail Terms Asked

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

Tougher picketing laws with penalties of $500 fines and three-month jail terms were sought at a closed-door cabinet session yesterday by a Canadian Manufacturers' Association delegation.

The group sought new amendments to B.C.'s controversial Bill 43.

One would prohibit picketing of a company's branch operations where a dispute was confined to a single plant or store. (See also Page 37.)

Another would make it illegal to picket without written authorization from the president and secretary of a trade union.

Spokesman for the delegation said the cabinet gave them a "cordial reception."

The meeting was originally intended to be a secret affair so far as the CMA was concerned.

When reporters discovered the nine-man delegation in a room near the cabinet chamber members said they weren't seeking any publicity.

"You weren't supposed to know we were here," said one.

Sell Pension Plan LaMarsh Advised

Knowles

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Democrat Stanley Knowles Thursday urged Health Minister Judy LaMarsh to enlist the aid of her fellow Liberals and any other willing members to counteract the "disgraceful" campaign the private insurance companies are waging against the Canada pension plan.

Mr. Knowles said he believed the contributory, portable scheme the government has planned can be successfully sold to the Canadian public.

"I'm sure the Liberal members are looking for something to do," Knowles said.

He then suggested that members of all parties be given material by the health department to conduct a public education campaign. Even the Conservative party members, he added, would probably be willing to help out.

Peace Researchers Find:

Most Canadians Favor Nuclear Arms

TORONTO (CP)—A majority of Canadians believe Canada's acquisition of nuclear weapons raises the risk of atomic war but most still supported the move, the Canadian Peace Research Institute says.

A survey of attitudes on disarmament, defence and foreign policy published Thursday by the institute also indicates most support disarmament with adequate safeguards, believe disarmament would cause at the most a minor economic recession.

The 20,000-word report on the survey, to be published in pamphlet form, represents the first major research project completed by the institute which was established as a non-profit organization two years ago under Oakville physicist Norman Alcock to use scientific techniques in seeking causes and cures for war. It is supported by public donation and foundation grants.

The report on Canadian attitudes towards public and international issues, directed by John Paul, former professor at the University of Western Ontario, is based on a 60-question poll started a year ago among a cross-section of Canadian voters. Comparative surveys were made among special groups such as business-

Manslaughter

Soldier's Charge Reduced

ESPAÑOLA, Ont. (CP)—A soldier originally charged with non-capital murder in the street fight death of a teen-ager, was committed Thursday for Supreme Court trial on a reduced charge of manslaughter.

Magistrate Anthony Falsetta said at a preliminary hearing here there was not sufficient evidence of intent to commit murder.

Joseph Landriault, 21, a member of the Queen's Own Rifles, on the original charge.

AFTER FIGHT

Landriault was charged after an Oct. 31 fight in Massey, 53 miles west of Sudbury, which resulted in the death of Bruce Robinson, 18. The youth died in a Sudbury hospital of brain injuries received from a skull fracture when he fell backwards onto the pavement.

Landriault was being transferred from West Germany to Victoria and was on leave at the time at the home of his sister.

Runaway Cars Crash Miner

MEXBOROUGH, England (Reuters)—A coal miner was crushed to death near here Thursday when runaway mine cars crashed 2,000 feet underground into a locomotive transporting men. Three of 70 other miners were injured and 36 treated for shock. The Cadeby coal mine is in northern England.

Weight-Conscious U.S. To Get Lighter Scotch

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) — Scotch whisky distillers have decided to send lighter-colored Scotch in clear glass bottles to the United States because weight-conscious Americans believe a lighter-colored whisky has fewer calories, a spokesman said.

men, labor and political leaders and teen-agers.

Li-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the government's adviser on disarmament, wrote a foreword to the report endorsing it as a valuable public service of special interest to "those organizations which are interested in developing an informed public opinion."

The survey is designed to find out what people are thinking on the issue of war and peace, both as a base for further research and as an indication of how public opinion compares with government policy. The report is to be followed up by an interpretative study of the findings.

The opinion poll was conducted by an independent survey organization in a period immediately following the brink-of-war crisis over Cuba last fall and while the question of Canada acquiring nuclear weapons was building up to a major political issue.

A majority of both the general voters and the special groups said the spread of nuclear weapons to more countries would raise the danger of atomic war.

All groups but the businessmen said Canada's acquisition of nuclear weapons — still in question at the time of the survey but now arranged — would increase the danger of other countries getting them.

The voters divided two to one in thinking Canada's action would increase the danger of spreading nuclear weapons. Political leaders — a sampling in proportion to party standings in Parliament — were more emphatic, 67 per cent of them foreseeing this danger. But only about one-third of the businessmen agreed with that view.

About half the voters favored admitting Communist China to the United Nations while about two-thirds supported grain sales and Chinese participation in disarmament talks. Support for grain sales and UN membership for China was much stronger among business, labor and political leaders, ranging above 85 per cent.

But only 52 per cent of businessmen said Chinese participation in disarmament talks was necessary, while support for this was measured at 68 per cent among the general public, 83 per cent among politicians and 96 per cent among labor leaders.

Three out of four Canadian voters favored a strong, permanent UN army but only one in three said Canada should increase contributions to pay for it. More political and labor leaders supported a strong UN — fully half the politicians said Canada should increase payments for a UN army — but businessmen were much less favorable.

Three-quarters of the labor and political leaders said the $55,000,000 Canada spends annually on foreign aid is too small, but only 44 per cent of businessmen and 12 per cent of the general public agreed.

A series of questions designed to discover the degree to which people feel involved and responsible in war-and-peace issues indicated about half the public is apathetic, but about one third said they should do something personally to further peace.

The sampling of teen-age attitudes in general corresponded to that of adults, with a few exceptions. Teen-agers indicated stronger support for foreign aid and greater support for the idea of personal involvement in public affairs.

A diverticulum for out-pouching can occur anywhere in the digestive tract. Duodenal means it is in the duodenum, or upper portion of the small intestine directly following the stomach.

Dear Dr. Moir: Is it possible to have a seven-pound, seven-ounce baby at seven months and call it premature. —Mrs. J.S.

Certainly, because size does not govern prematurity. It is strictly a matter of whether the baby has had the normal nine months to develop; if less, it is premature.

A premature baby that large gives reason to suspect the mother may have a tendency toward diabetes even if it has not yet become actively apparent. Another factor often overlooked is miscalculation of the time of conception.

Dear Dr. Moir: Please discuss a duodenal diverticulum. —B.C.

Secretary Told To Get $5,000

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Thompson asked her to bring back $5,000 in cash from a bank two days after the murder of her wife, Carol.

The secretary, Kathleen Zolna, said Thompson, her employer, asked her to deposit a $12,000 cheque, proceeds from a sale, but to bring him $5,000 in cash.

Thompson is on trial for first-degree murder in connection with his wife's slaying last March 6 in their St. Paul home. Asked by prosecutor William R. Randall whether Thompson indicated what he intended to do with the $5,000, the secretary replied:

"Well, he said that this was two days after the murder, that if the police hadn't solved the case within 72 hours, the chances were very slim that they were going to solve it."

"He said he had some underworld connections which he was sure could help him in finding Carol's murderer."

The secretary then explained that the bank teller would not give her the $5,000 unless Thompson himself personally signed the withdrawal slip.

RETURNED TO OFFICE

"I returned to the office with it," Mrs. Zolna added. "He was in another office at the time with two of the gentlemen from our office and I brought the cheque and explained the circumstances to him."

"The other gentlemen asked him about the cheque or what the purpose of the withdrawal would be, and they advised him at that time that it would be a very unwise move — it would look bad — and consequently he changed his mind."

Tougher Picket Laws Asked

They first declined to make their brief available, then offered a copy with the legislative amendment section torn out.

Later, after newsmen got hold of a whole copy anyway, they agreed to distribute the original version and to discuss it.

One member of the group said the original secrecy stemmed from reluctance to release the brief to the press before the cabinet had seen it.

Asked the difference between releasing half of it and releasing the whole thing, one delegate replied "that's a good question."

Another said the first section released dealt only in generalities.

Robert B. McDonnell, president of the CMA's B.C. division and head of the delegation, said the brief had the support of "many sections" of labor.

The suggested legislation would require every picket to have in his possession a special form giving his name, the name and address of his employer and the purpose for which he is present. It would have to be signed by union of-icals and state the name of strike or lockout in effect.

Any picket failing to have such a form would be subject to a fine of $500 or a term of three months in jail or both.

A spokesman said the purpose of the amendment would be to put a halt to "mystery pickets" which have appeared at some occasions during the past year. Mystery pickets have refused to identify themselves or say what union they are picketing for.

BE PROTECTED

The brief said that if unions are to be legally responsible for illegal acts of picketers they should be "protected against danger of liability for the acts of unauthorized persons."

Without the amendment, the brief pointed out, picket lines can be infiltrated by anti-unionists, rabble-rousers or even employer sympathizers.

EMPLOYMENT PLACE

The brief proposes that once pickets are equipped with the special identification forms they only be allowed to operate at the employment place where a

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass. (AP)—A quick-thinking tanker captain perhaps saved the lives of his 21-man crew Thursday when a large freighter suddenly appeared out of early-morning fog in Buzzards Bay, too late to avoid collision.

Both ships caught fire and five tankermen were in hospital with burns and other injuries.

ACTED QUICKLY

Before the tanker and the 510-foot Norwegian freighter Fernview struck, Capt. Carsten A. Pedersen, skipper of the Sun Oil Company tanker Dynafuel, ordered a sharp right turn, sounded a general alarm and released carbon dioxide into the tanks of his 3,000-ton vessel.

Pedersen, taking his ship from Newington, N.H., to New ark, N.J., with water ballast in the tanks, had taken the bridge in early morning to guide his ship through Cape Cod Canal and was still on duty when the collision occurred.

The 6,125-ton Fernview, out of Oslo, bound from New York to Boston, smashed into the corner of the Dynafuel's port bridge wing.

The collision occurred about 2 1/2 miles southeast of Mishawum Point, South Dartmouth.

The Fernview grated along the side of the tanker and cut deeply into the after-deck house which contains crew quarters and the engine room.

Pedersen's warning gave his crew time to escape direct injury from the crash although one was bruised and four others were burned in the fire which broke out immediately.

Oil Embargo Supported By Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Martin said in the Commons Thursday that Canada "fully supported the basic aim" of a resolution passed Wednesday by the United Nations General Assembly calling for an embargo on oil shipments to South Africa.

But he said Canada abstained on the vote because sanctions are the prerogative of the Security Council—not the General Assembly. It would weaken the UN to disregard the proper procedures there, Mr. Martin was replying to questions by NDP Leader Douglas and Heath Macquarrie (PC—Queens).

He said Canada has condemned South Africa's apartheid racial policy and its application in South-West Africa—an area governed by South Africa under a mandate of the old League of Nations.

BERLIN (UPI)—Two East-to-Berlin and said they will not German Communist leaders tolerate Western "provocation" Thursday claimed jurisdiction in East Berlin and on over all Western Allied traffic the highway to the city.

The attacks on Western routes to isolated West Berlin reached Berlin from West Germany and repeated the Communist demand for a peace treaty to solve the West Berlin problem, acting premier Willi Stoph and "end once and for all all disruptive manoeuvres on our autobahn."

A small U.S. army convoy—third to pass without difficulties in three days—carried 26 men in 13 trucks. Although Stoph and Ebert called for the conclusion of agreements on use of land, water and air

Canada to Boost Aid To $180,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada expects to boost its foreign aid program next year to between $180,000,000 and $190,000,000 from the current $129,000,000. External Affairs Minister Martin announced yesterday.

Mr. Martin told the Commons that the main feature of an expanded foreign aid program to start in the fiscal year which begins April 1, 1964, will be special lending for development purposes.

An initial ceiling of $30,000,000 in the 1964-65 fiscal year will be placed on the lending program which will include such features as long maturity periods, liberal grace periods and little or no interest.

A significant increase would result in Canadian foreign aid grants, which in future would be limited to providing assistance to projects, supplying industrial commodities and carrying out technical assistance.

Gunman Accused Of Child's Murder

TORONTO (CP)—A convicted gunman was charged with capital murder yesterday in the death of 10-year-old Thomasina Baker, whose body was found in a shallow grave Wednesday after a 15-month search.

The murder charge against John McDonald, 46, of Newmarket, Ont., was ordered by W. C. Bowman, director of prosecutions for the attorney-general's department.

Police said they believe the man who strangled Thomasina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker of Beaton, Ont., soon after her disappearance Aug. 20 hid her body near Caledon and then returned months later to bury it two miles away.

McDonald, sentenced to 10 years imprisonment in Hamilton last week for shooting a police officer, accompanied provincial police who found the girl's remains buried under leaves in swamp country about 30 miles northwest of Toronto.

Thomasina's body was taken to provincial police headquarters here for an autopsy by Dr. Fred Jaffe, provincial pathologist.

Meanwhile Metropolitan Toronto police said the discovery of Thomasina's body has led to renewed investigations into the slaying of 16-year-old Julie Wolanski whose shot and raped body was found in a ditch about two weeks before Thomasina disappeared.

Canadians World's Greatest Hypocrites

By FRANK DREA

Those concerned at the failure of Canadians to establish a distinct identity in the world can now rest easy. For Canadians have firmly established themselves in one dubious niche—the most hypocritical people in the world when it comes to taking a stand on the issues of racial discrimination.

In the last decade, Canadians have acted remarkably like the Biblical Pharisee, thanking God in the Temple that we are not like those other terrible people, the ones who discriminate and degrade fellow humans because of the color of their skin.

To make certain there is no doubt about whom we mean, angry Canadian voices have been heard round the world, alternately denouncing South Africa for its bizarre racist policies, then castigating the United States for the antics of its white supremacists in the deep south.

Canadians have been extremely unctuous in proclaiming that nothing like the plight of the South African or American Negro could happen here. Even when most of us know that what is happening to the Canadian Indian is not only a national disgrace but an indictment against all of us.

It is common knowledge that tens of thousands of Indians and Metis, not to mention thousands of Eskimos, are the victims of a discrimination that reduces them to a deplorable level of poverty and degradation.

And yet, there is no massive protest, not even a whimper from a society that is anxious to point the finger of scorn at others.

While Canadians are willing to protest and to taunt others on the plight of the Indian, they care little for the Indian problem, even if it should be a burden on the conscience of every thinking person in the country.

Recently, the CBC television program Inquiry documented the dreadful living conditions of a band of 1,000 Indians on a reserve maintained by the federal government in Manitoba.

It showed that half these people were illiterate, more than half the 143 houses were unfit for human habitation and that the government was "remediating" the situation by building new homes at the rate of three a year.

And, there has been no protest, no outcry against those who are charged with protecting the Indian and educating him so that he may improve his own lot.

Perhaps this stems from the common recognition that the federal government has proven itself either incapable of or unwilling to begin any real program to remove the Canadian Indian from his dreadful conditions. It has done little to try to educate the Indian for life in the age of technology, even though it must realize that he cannot hope to escape his environment of shack towns and poor farms, or life in urban slums, until he is capable of becoming an integral part of the work force.

Instead it pays lip service to such a program by half hearted efforts that more often than not leave Indians destitute or at best becoming accustomed to living off meagre handouts from the taxpayers of one of the most affluent nations in the world.

The plight of the Canadian Indian is an indictment against all of us, and one that can't be erased by Canadians loudly championing the cause of people who are discriminated against and humiliated in other lands.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan. If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Advt.

Experiment Reveals Sinister Fact

Cruelty When Sanctioned Is Generally Irresistible

By CYRIL CONNOLLY, from London

Hitler's Germany, Mao's China—how is it that these regimes, to take only two examples, can find an ample supply of men (and women) willing to torture, send millions to gas chambers, commit as individuals all manner of atrocities?

Well, look what happened when a team of researchers at Harvard University recently carried out an experiment.

They set up a punishment chamber in which a man sat in a chair. They selected a mixed bunch of 40 men from New Haven, Conn.—a middle class community well above average in income-groups.

One by one these men were led to a bank of switches. They were told that these switches, graded in intensity, would give electric shocks to the man in the chair.

They were told the experiment was to test the effect of punishment on learning ability, and that they were to represent the teachers, and administer the shock, as directed by the researchers, when the "pupil" in the chair made a mistake. (In fact he received no shock, but acted a suitable degree of response—up to shrieks, and banging on the wall and begging them to stop.)

The result—only 14 out of 40, 35 per cent refused to continue. The rest, sometimes feebly protesting, sometimes laughing hysterically, carried on to the point where their "pupil" was in theory suffering horribly and near death.

One would like to know how many people refused to take part at all, how many of the 14 who gave up refused to throw even the first switch. (And I wonder how women would have reacted?)

I think we can conclude that the general results are not scientifically accurate but that the experiment does reveal a most sinister fact—that cruelty sanctioned by authority is generally irresistible. We have only to think how we feel ourselves about "vermin" and how gladly we should send for a rat exterminator if the need arose.

All wars are fought because human beings are willing to kill when officially told to kill; the torturing of Algerians by the French military authorities was received with apathy and even approval by a large section of the population.

The 20th Century is the century which has restored torture and made it nearly 100 per cent efficient. Brain-washing is the Behaviourists' greatest contribution to modern psychology and can be combined with narco-analysis to wreck the human mind.

The British have a very large vein of servility (usually described as law-abidingness) and an equally strong vein of cruelty (never mentioned but borne out in the experience of lesser breeds). The war revealed a natural predilection for informing in the civilian population.

When Lord Radcliffe warned against increased security regulations and advocated diminishing the number of secrets instead, he was speaking. I feel, not merely as a great humanist who believes in personal liberty and free speech but as a realist who is aware what a temptation informing and snooping is to nearly every member of society.

How many of us would refuse to spy on our next trip abroad if politely asked to? If motorists were allowed to fine each other for traffic offences how officious would they get?

How many people would go to bullfights if they were started in their countries?

VIEWPOINT

Nuclear Carrier Amazes Experts

By ANDREW WILSON
From London

NATO armored warfare experts are understood to have been startled by a revolutionary new land weapon demonstrated to military attaches in Sweden last week.

The vehicle is described as a nuclear troop carrier, PVB 302. It weighs 13 tons and carries nine infantrymen plus the driver and gunner.

The carrier is shielded against radiation and heat and can traverse ground radioactive from recent nuclear explosion.

An air filter "feeds" the occupants through breathing masks and protects them against fallout.

Most remarkable of all is the carrier's waterborne ability. Under nuclear attack it can hide like a hippopotamus in the nearest lake or river, with only one-sixth of its volume exposed.

The carrier seems to put the Swedish forces far ahead of some NATO countries in armored warfare—a development indicated earlier this year by the unveiling of the new "S" tank, a fast, low-silhouette weapon on which British and American tank experts have cast approving eyes.

Four or five of the new carriers can house a brigade signals and command headquarters, continuously moving or skulking submerged.

By 1965 Swedish reactors will have accumulated enough fissionable material to start production of tactical nuclear weapons. The government will then face the decision whether, in fact, to manufacture warheads.

If Sweden demonstrates that she is capable of nuclear production, a price could be extracted for her abstention. This might take the form of a guarantee of her neutrality, a measure of disengagement in the Baltic, or recognition of a nuclear-free zone in Scandinavia.

EDMONTON — Larry Graham, 35, charged with capital murder in the knife-slaying of his wife, Maude, 34, was convicted of non-capital murder after Mr. Justice H. W. Riley told the jury to "pay considerable attention to the defence of provocation." Graham was sentenced to life. Arthur, Walter, Parfeniak, a man friend of Mrs. Graham, had testified he was out with the woman an hour before she was slain.

PRINCE GEORGE — Magistrate G. O. Stewart questioned the right of police to drag Alexander Nagy of Prince George from his car in a parking lot, but fined the man $200 for impaired driving.

ELGIN, Scotland — There was no birthday party for Prince Charles yesterday when he became 15. He spent part of the day returning by train to Gordonstoun school from London, where he journeyed Tuesday night to have some dental work done. Nearest thing to a party was an informal luncheon at Buckingham Palace Wednesday. Dormitory master Robert Whitby, who met the prince on his return here, said: "It will be lessons as usual."

Fraud Plot Charged

Two men charged with conspiring to defraud the Canadian treasury of $500 appeared in city magistrate's court yesterday for preliminary hearing.

Gary Albert Warrington Pope, a former member of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and Leonard Bieller, president of Blue and White Transfer, were charged after payment was allegedly received for transferring Pope's belongings to Winnipeg, his place of enlistment. The belongings were actually taken only to Surrey, on the lower mainland, police claim, but payment warrants for the Winnipeg transfer went through.

The hearing was adjourned shortly after it started, and will be resumed in December, when Magistrate William Oster returns from holiday. Bieller is represented by George Gregory and Pope by Jack Gatehouse.

Six youths were fined in Saanich magistrate's court yesterday when they pleaded guilty to being minors in possession of alcohol. Allyn R. De Wolf, 1618 Balmoral, was fined $20 when court was told he had been found Oct. 31 with 11 full bottles of beer in an open case in the back seat of his car.

Workman Hurt At Wharf

A workman was injured Wednesday when struck a glancing blow by a heavy timber at the wharf at Capital Iron and Metal, 1832 Store Street.

Earle Spence, 51 Menzies, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital and released after a check-up. Police said one of the foot-square timbers which was being moved by a crane slipped from the logs, fell 15 feet and bounced, striking Spence in the back.

Police said that when he was asked where he got the beer, De Wolf replied, "I forget. I have a poor memory."

Roy Kirby, 845 Colville, and Peter Wells, 470 Sturdee, were charged Oct. 30 when police found 43 bottles of beer in their car. They were fined $20 each. Three other youths were each fined $25 when several bottles of beer were found in their car and on the ground beside the car. They were Douglas Green, 913 Inverness, Michael Cox, 580 Acnes, and Kenneth Piercy, 2379 Dysart.

Magistrate Oster warned the youths they could easily have been charged with the more serious offence of consuming liquor in a public place.

A man charged in Saanich magistrate's court yesterday with prowling by night admitted to police he had gone to the front door of a house "hoping to see a woman undressed or undressing."

Rudolph Christ, 771 McKenzle, was picked up Wednesday night after a resident of Sevenoaks Road complained of a prowler in the area.

Christ pleaded guilty and was remanded to Dec. 2 for probation and psychiatric report and sentence.

A previous conviction ruled out the possibility for probation for a man charged with theft under $50 and uttering a forged document. Magistrate William Oster said in city magistrate's court yesterday.

Stanley D. Marlow, 2270 Shakespeare, stole a cheque he found on a hall table in the house in which he was living, and cashed it.

A probation officer recommended a suspended sentence, but Magistrate Oster said this was impossible due to a previous criminal conviction.

Marlow was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

A 17-year-old boy pleaded guilty in city magistrate's court yesterday to three counts of car theft and two of theft under $50.

Court was told Colin Molesworth, 1176 Yates, caused about $2,000 damage to one of the cars he stole, but a quantity of clothing stolen from two different Victoria stores had been recovered.

He was remanded to next week for probation report. Bail was set at $1,000.

1,400,000 Travel Rogers Pass

REVELSTOKE (CP)—Almost 1,400,000 persons have travelled the Rogers Pass route since April 1, it was announced Thursday.

The park superintendent's office said 238,891 cars carrying 889,178 passengers entered the Mount Revelstoke and Glacier national parks through the east gate while another 238,485 cars while 785,305 passengers entered through the west gate.

Troopers Checking Speed Trap Claim

LUDOWICI, GA. (AP) — State troopers, in unprecedented action, took over traffic duties Thursday in this south Georgia town accused of operating a speed trap.

The highway patrolmen, on orders of Gov. Carl Sanders, relieved local law enforcement authorities at midnight and will remain here 90 days.

Highway patrol director Lowell Conner said during a hearing in Atlanta that Long County and Ludowici, located on U.S. 301, a major north-south highway, collected $14,579 in traffic fees during a 14-month probationary period.

Narcotics Stolen From Doctor's Bag

Two bottles of narcotics were stolen from a doctor's bag in his unlocked car parked in the St. Joseph's Hospital parking lot overnight Wednesday, city police said yesterday.

Dr. A. B. Allen, 303 Goldstream, told police the bottles contained morphine and pethidine.

Police Chief J. F. Gregory has asked all doctors and druggists to be especially careful about locking up drugs due to a recent rise in the amount of drugs stolen in this area.

The conference starts today. — (William A. Boucher)

Politics and Religion Can Mix—Gagliardi

Politics and religion can mix, Dr. DeLuca, who felt Mr. Gagliardi had missed the point of his argument, said, "it is the eternal lot of the professor to be misunderstood and the politician to be misunderstanding."

"The man who opposes me politically comes to my church," he pointed out.

DISAGREES

Mr. Gagliardi, minister of government and gospel, disagreed violently with Dr. DeLuca, who maintained that politics and religion are incompatible.

GREATEST ADVOCATE

Mr. Gagliardi retorted "the greatest advocate of democracy is Christianity. It is not the legislature which has established our freedom, but the ministry of the church."

Rev. McLean agreed with Mr. Gagliardi that the principles of Christianity should extend to public life, but he did not think ministers of the gospel should enter party politics.

DISASTROUS END

Mr. Tobin felt that any attempt to mix politics and religion ends disastrously. The financial and technical knowledge and ability to compromise, necessary in political leaders, are not usually found in ministers of the gospel, he said.

Mr. Gagliardi said that the minister's ability to withstand criticism is excellent preparation for public life.

An Envious Inspection

Unique Christmas Tree Trophy, symbol of The Daily Colonist Boxing Day golf tournament, draws admiring glance from Paddy Kavanagh, secretary-manager of Royal Canadian Golf Association, visiting from Toronto Thursday to meet officials of local clubs.

Dazzled by sunshine and balmy weather here, Kavanagh said golfers in the east "have heard a lot about your Boxing Day tournament, and we always envy you lucky people in Victoria." (Bill Boucher)

Christmas Tree Tourney Set for 10th Straight Run

Canada's only Christmas golfing tournament, open to men and women amateur players, will be played this year at the Uplands Golf Club.

The Daily Colonist's Christmas Tree tournament will be played on Boxing Day, Thursday, Dec. 26, and will be open to amateur players with valid-RCGA or CLGU handicaps.

The Daily Colonist, which founded the event in 1954, will once again have the co-operation of the Hudson's Bay Company, which for the tenth year in succession will assign its Santa Claus for his final assignment of the season, and present a gift to every competitor.

Although frost has on two past occasions made the greens hard, the weather has co-operated to enable the Christmas Tree tournament to be played without a break for nine years.

The first tournament was for men only and was played at the Victoria club in 1954, with Frank Scroggs of Uplands as the winner.

The following year the competition was opened to women as well and in 1955 the women played at Uplands, with the men continuing at Victoria. This double course system prevailed until 1960 when the Victoria club withdrew its support.

Since then men and women have played on the same course, with Uplands providing the facilities in 1960 and 1961 and Royal Colwood in 1962.

This year it will be Uplands' turn to act as hosts.

Details of the competition will be announced later, but play will be over 18 holes medal, and meals and refreshments will be provided by the Daily Colonist.

Leafs Show Unusual Bounce After Lecture from Coach

NEW YORK — Punch Imlach always expects his Toronto Maple Leafs to bounce back after he chews them out, but even Imlach must have been surprised at the way they did it here last night.

Leafs, bawled out by Imlach after Wednesday's 2-2 tie with Montreal Canadiens, literally bounced their way past New York Rangers for a 5-4 victory and a share of second place in the National Hockey League.

A power-play shot by Bob Pulford bounced off a defender's leg and off goalie Jacques Plante's leg to give Leafs a 3-1 lead in the first. A bouncing shot by Red Kelly dribbled through two Ranger defencemen and Frank Mahovlich took the rebound to score the goal that broke a 3-3 tie late in the second period.

And finally, a bouncing shot from mid-air by defenceman Tim Horton with three minutes left to play proved to be the winning goal as the puck took a crazy, last-second hop past Plante.

That one made it 5-3, and Leafs were to need it badly.

Rangers' Vic Hadfield scored with only 34 seconds left, and just missed tying it up for the third time in the last 15 seconds.

However he could not control a rebound in front of the Toronto net, and Rangers went down to their sixth straight defeat.

Last night's score: Toronto 5 at New York 4.
Next games: Saturday—Chicago at Montreal; New York at Toronto; Detroit at Boston.

Brazil Squares World Cup Final

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Trailing 2-0 at the end of the first half, Santos of Brazil scored four goals within 22 minutes to defeat Milan of Italy 4-2 Thursday night in the second game of the World Cup soccer championship.

The contest in Maracana Stadium drew 130,000 fans. Milan could have won the title with a tie but the loss forced a third game, to be played Saturday night.

Milan took the lead by capitalizing on loose opening play by the underdog Santos squad. But the Brazilians came back strongly and scored four goals in 22 minutes of the second half.

Milan went into this game as favorite on the strength of a 4-2 victory in the first game of the tournament.

PELE INJURED
In addition, Pele, the star of the Brazilian team, was unable to play because of a strained back muscle.

The exciting second half was played in a heavy rain. The Brazilians got their first goal in the fifth minute.

Pele, who had been substituted for Batista just before game time, opened the Santos scoring and also got the final goal. Both his scores were made on foul shots.

Saturday's game will also be played in Maracana Stadium. The delirious Brazilians, ex-

Lions at Strongest for WFC Final And All Set for Regina Conditions

VANCOUVER — B.C. Lions will take everything possible with them to Regina today, including their healthiest roster of the season, for tomorrow's opening game of the best-of-three Western Football Conference against Saskatchewan Roughriders.

There will be infra-red heating equipment to do something about the expected cold, their own drinking water to avoid what passes for aqua pura in the Wheat City and several types of footwear to cope with field conditions. But most of all, there will be that healthy, well-rested lineup.

ONLY ONE DOUBT

Although Canadian defensive tackle Barney Therrien is a doubtful starter because of a knee injury in the last league game, the Lions will be at their strongest of the season.

Mike Cacic, huge Canadian tackle who had to have a knee operation early in the season, has been taken off the injured list and will take his old tackle spot on the defensive team to ease any necessity to use Therrien.

RELEASE SCOTT

To make room on the roster for Cacic, the Lions released Harvey Scott, 23-year-old reserve guard claimed from Calgary Stampeders last year.

In setting on his lineup for Saturday, coach Dave Skrien has decided to go with three Canadian ends — naturalized Jerry Jones, Pat Clardige and rookie Greg Findlay — and sit out Mack Burton.

With Burton joining reserve-quarterback Mel Melin as the two imports not being used, the Lions will dress reliable Don Vioic, a standout linebacker and reserve fullback, and use him where and as conditions may dictate. He may play as a line-backer to free Gary Schwertfeger for the centre spot on the offensive line.

Otherwise, no lineup changes are contemplated. Joe Kapp will quarterback in a backfield which will include Willie Fleming, Mub Beamer, Sonny Homer and Ron Morris in front, Clardige and Jones will be the ends, Lennie Dennis and Bill Frank at tackle, Tom Hinton and Steve Cotter at guard and either Schwertfeger or Ian Hagemont at centre.

THE DEFENCE
On defence, it will be Cacic and Emery Barnes as tackles, Mike Martin and Dick Fouts, as ends, Norm Fieldgate and Paul Seale as corner-linebackers, Tom Brown and Schwertfeger or Vioic interior linebackers, and Steve Shaffer, By Bailey, Bill Muncey and Neil Beaumont as half-backs.

To keep his banana-belt players warm on the bench, Skrien will have a battery of infra-red lamps aimed at them. They will be transported with the equipment along with enough jugs of distilled water to last for the time the Lions will be in Regina.

THEY'RE TOUGH
From Regina came word that all of the Roughriders, except perhaps star defensive-halfback Dale West, will be ready to play — a rather amazing turn of events considering the number of Riders who limped off the field in that Monday comeback against Calgary in the semi-finals.

Rider-coach Bob Shaw said Thursday that he didn't expect his club would be able to pass as well against the Lions as it did against Calgary and "might have to concentrate on our running attack more."

In reply, Skrien said the Riders could hardly be expected to pass more than they did against Calgary and that the Lions were expecting that more running plays would be used against them.

Ron Lancaster is certain to start at quarterback and it is likely that the Riders will use the same backfield as they did against Calgary in the second game — George Reed at full-back, Ray Purdin and Ed Buchanan at halfback and Hugh Campbell as the flanker.

"The Lions," Shaw said, "so far have shown conclusively that they are the best team in the West. We're going to have to win that first one at home."

Night League Opens Season

High school basketball opens tonight with a Night League jamboree at Belmont High starting at 8 p.m.

Four teams, from Belmont, Clarendon, University School and St. Louis College will take part, with four 15-minute games scheduled.

Night League schedule starts next Friday, when St. Louis College plays at Belmont and University School visits Clarendon.

Winnipeg Agog Over Riders

WINNIPEG (UPI) — Winnipeg's 1962 Grey Cup champion Blue Bombers haven't played a football game in 10 days, and won't play for several months, but this city is alive and agog with football talk.

In restaurants, barber shops, billiard parlors, drugstores, cocktail lounges, hotels and on streets swept by blustery mid-November winds, Winnipeg football fandom is talking about and pulling for the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Losing Coaches Vote for Ottawa

OTTAWA—Hamilton Tiger-cats finished in first place in the Eastern Football Conference, but in the minds of the league's two also-ran coaches they rank as underdogs to Ottawa Rough Riders in the opening game, total-point final opening here tomorrow.

Both Nobby Wirkowski of Toronto Argonauts and Jim Trimble of Montreal Alouettes pick the Riders to represent the with almost every report. About the only definite word was that halfback Ron Stewart, who missed the semi-final against Montreal, is ready to go, and that line-backer Jack Nichols won't play Saturday and may even miss the final game of the series Nov. 24 in Hamilton.

past in the Grey Cup final Nov. 30. This despite the fact that Ottawa's Frank Clair says he can't remember a Rider club with "so many injuries at the same time."

All this talk bothers Hamilton coach Ralph Sazio not at all.

"It's their opinion, and they're entitled to it," he said. "Just say we'll be there."

Sazio is keeping his starting lineup to himself except for two details:

All-star Garney Henley will definitely start as a defensive back, although he may see action on offence too if T-Cats have trouble getting started; and newcomer Art Baker will start at fullback to free Bobby Kuntz for line-backing duties on defence.

Clair was issuing medical reports almost hourly, and switching his starting lineup

Official Check Improves Lancaster's Derring-Do

REGINA (CP)—Official check of game figures by league-statistician Bill Hawrylak shows that Ron Lancaster did better than first reported in his record-breaking performance Monday which put Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Western Football Conference final.

The report showed Lancaster actually threw 48 passes instead of the 45 first reported to surpass by four the previous record set by Calgary quarterback Eagle Day earlier this season. Lancaster's 26 completions was one short of the record set this season by Day.

Lancaster's total yardage passing remained at 492 yards, two yards more than the previous record set by Lindy Berry of Edmonton Eskimos in 1960.

However, that's not the whole story. In Berry's day, passing yardage included yards gained on pass interference calls against the opposition. Today, that yardage is chalked up in the penalty statistics.

The rule deprived Lancaster of another 88 yards, the amount assessed against Stampeders the four times they were called for interfering with a potential receiver.

Counting those yards, Lancaster would have had 580 yards for the afternoon—90 more than the previous record.

In case you don't remember, Roughriders won the game 39-12, to take the two-game, total-point series, 48-47.

Theatre Showing Definite

Victoria football fans will get their chance to watch the Grey Cup final on the huge screen at the Royal Theatre.

Definite decision to show the East-West football final on the closed-circuit theatre television was made yesterday after being under consideration for some weeks.

All seats for the Grey Cup final at the Royal Theatre will be $5, with season ticket-holders given a chance to purchase the seats they had for regular home games of the B.C. Lions before they are put on general sale.

Plans as outlined yesterday by Reg. Fleming of the T. Eaton Co., sponsor of the regular-season theatre telecasts, give season ticket-holders the chance to reserve their seats between 9 a.m. Monday, Nov. 18, and 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 23.

Those without the season's ticket preference may also make Grey Cup reservations as of Monday morning, Nov. 18. They will be put on a list and the best seats will be sold to them in order of priority after the deadline for season ticket-holders has passed.

All action in the Western final between the Lions and the Saskatchewan Roughriders taking place in Vancouver will also be shown at the Royal Theatre. There is definitely a game next Wednesday night at 8 p.m. and if the best-of-three final goes the limit there will be a second game the following Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

For Wednesday's game, season ticket-holders have until 5:30 p.m. Monday to pick up their seats. General sale for Wednesday's game will be open at Eaton's box office on Tuesday morning at 9.

If there is a game the following Saturday, season ticket-holders must pick up their seats between 9 a.m. Thursday and 9 p.m. Friday, with general sale starting at 9 Saturday morning.

SECRETLY HAPPY
Winnipeg fans took it philosophically, many of them secretly glad the Roughriders were finally clawing their way back to a position of strength.

Then "it" happened Monday night in Regina and Winnipeg rejoiced.

Now fans are hoping against hope for "another miracle." Most of them say their adopted Roughriders should win the first and then somewhat forlornly "I hope they win one in Vancouver." The hope is based on sentimentality rather than logic.

with Alec Merriman

Deer hunters are having a good year with the harvest to date running 25 to 30 per cent higher than last year.

Regional game biologist Don McCaughan says the 30,000 deer harvest predicted for this year is now in sight. Last year it was 25,000.

Here are the figures for the holiday weekend:

Nanaimo Lakes, 491 hunters bagged 131 deer for 26.3 per cent success.

Campbell River, 865 hunters, 227 deer, 26 per cent.

Copper Canyon, 500 hunters, 116 deer, 23 per cent.

Hottest spot on the island was Comox Lake where 341 hunters bagged 133 deer for 40 per cent success.

Cayuse, 314 hunters, 92 deer, 29 per cent.

Wolfe Lake (Courtenay), 578 hunters, 94 deer, 16 per cent.

Muir Creek, 112 hunters, 22 bucks, 31 antlerless.

Leechtown, 65 hunters, 10 bucks, 10 antlerless.

Gordon River, 136 hunters, 22 bucks, 14 antlerless.

19 Creek (Robertson River), 74 hunters, two bucks, nine antlerless.

Generally opening of antlerless season showed the harvest as 55 per cent bucks, 25 per cent does and 20 per cent fawns.

Goose shooting was not so hot over the weekend. The Tofino geese hadn't yet arrived and only about 300 geese were seen in the area. The locals weren't hunting much, but a good crowd of outside shooters turned up for a rather disappointing Remembrance Day shoot.

This week should see the geese and ducks move into Tofino area. Big flocks of geese have been spotted at the northern tip of the island.

This is the weekend experienced hunters are heading for the B.C. interior, where practically everything becomes fair game and record harvests of moose and deer are now being recorded.

Rain is making it difficult for freshwater fishermen, but those who get out are having pretty good success.

Lloyd Ford, his brother Roy and brother-in-law George Smith returned from Lower Campbell-Fry Lake regions at the weekend with 62 fish, one more than five pounds and only a dozen under two pounds. Two weeks before they got 103 trout, 36 of them more than three pounds.

Their secret is slow trolling—so slow the spinner just moves, doesn't turn—and 30 or 40 feet of line.

Verna Palliser reports Cowichan River high, but trout are being taken on salmon egg fly at the top end.

Cowichan Lake has been providing good fishing at the mouths of the creeks for trout up to eight pounds on salmon egg paste and worm. The lake is a little muddy.

It is bucktail time for grilse in Pinlayson Arm around Goldstream Island and a number of limit catches have been reported.

There are plenty of small springs and grilse in the White Lady-Stone House-Deep Hole waters. Use green and white bucktail, on the surface or with two or three ounces of weight.

Frank Jenvey found the winter springs in the middle of Brentwood Bay Sunday, landing a 12.4, 10.0 and 11.8 on Strip-Teaser, 100 feet of wire line and planer.

Redder Bay has been a hot spot for winter springs, but grilse are a nuisance. In those waters, Becher has been giving up a few springs and to have Sooke waters with early mornings heat and Strip-Teaser best producer.

Both fishermen and hunters will be glad to hear the Gold River Gun Club has been formed and is offering some special access off the main Gold River Road to B.C. Federation fish and game club members. Gun Club members man the gates under a fish and game access program and for those who want to explore new territory you can take off from the Upper Gold River gate on weekends from 7 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and return 3:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and Sundays only.

This is another big step forward in recreational access and our congratulations go out to the new Gold River Club. Erik Wood is secretary of the new club.

Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will see a film about Big Game Hunting in Africa at their meeting at the Goldstream Clubhouse Monday at 8 p.m.

League Plays Musical Chairs While Clubs Name the Tunes

By JIM TAYLOR

There is a word to describe the way in which the Pacific Coast Soccer League is handling its schedule. The word is bush.

The PCSL professes to be of major league status, yet allows itself to be run at the whim of its teams. It points to increased attendance as proof of its success, yet refuses to give those same fans the benefit of a dependable schedule.

And there is no sign that things will ever change.

TYPICAL PLAY

This weekend's fixtures involving Victoria United is a prime example of league thinking.

United was scheduled here against first-place Vancouver Canadians tomorrow. But Canadians informed league president Bill Findler they couldn't field a team. Findler obligingly rescheduled North Shore here in their place.

North Shore, with a game already scheduled Sunday in Seattle, understandably balked at two road games in two days. So Findler phone United and told them there would be no game here after all.

ANOTHER ONE

It's an old, sad story. Columbus, which wields the big stick with the league because of its large following, refused to play in the first two weeks of the schedule because it would not have its strongest team available. The league held still for it.

United refused to play a road game on Remembrance Day, and again the league bowed to the wishes of an individual club. Now it's Canadians turn, and the incredible game goes on and on.

From week to week no club knows for certain when or where it will play, because the other team involved may decide it isn't up to playing as scheduled. Fans deprived of a rigid schedule cannot look ahead to "big" games between league leaders, because who knows when they'll ever get to meet?

IT'S QUESTIONABLE

Teams play when they feel like it, they demand that Columbus not be allowed to play so many Sunday games, and in every case the league knuckles under. This is a major league?

The idea of a club calling off a game because it won't have its strongest players out is ridiculous. Canadians, for instance, have a junior team to draw from, and it hardly seems reasonable Columbus should be allowed postponements just to give it time to fly in players from other leagues.

Findler and his executive should draw up a complete schedule before the season starts, and nothing but unplayable conditions should allow that schedule to be changed. Games postponed by weather should be tacked on the end of the schedule.

Every team has to post a bond before acceptance. Failure to meet a scheduled game should mean forfeiture of two points and an automatic late.

With each postponement, the fine should get bigger.

There'll be howls of protest from every team if Findler ever puts a plan like this into effect, but it's something that has to be done.

Sooner or later, the PCSL has to grow up or pack up.

AS IT STANDS

Current PCSL schedule for this weekend (assuming no changes in the next 48 hours), has Columbus playing New Westminster Royals at Calixter Park Saturday, and Wallace and Firefighters playing there Sunday while North Shore is in Seattle.

Columbus could tie for first place with a victory. At the moment they trail the unbeaten Canadians by two points with a game in hand.

The interesting first-division race in the Victoria and District Soccer League continues Sunday with only two points separating the top four clubs.

Victoria West, nursing a one-point lead over Brodies and Gorge Hotel, meets last-place Eddys at Central Park while Gorge faces Esquimalt at Heywood Park and Brodies play Prince and Smith at Bullen Park.

Canadian Scottish, only two points behind West, though running fourth, meets Kickers at Topaz Park in the other game.

In the second division it will be Kickers against Wanderers at Beacon Hill Park, Gorge vs. Vikings at Gordon Head, Kings vs. Navy at HMCS Naden and Dunlops vs. Oak Bay at Carnarvon Park.

All games start at 2 p.m.

New Referee Must Prove Tear Control

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—The Nyasaland soccer league advertised Monday for a new referee — an unemotional one.

In a match at Mzimba between Union and NTC, the referee ordered a big centre half off the field for rough play. The player refused to leave. The referee repeated the order. The centre half moved toward the official, who burst into tears, blew his whistle to stop the game and fled, still weeping.

United refused to play a road game on Remembrance Day, and again the league bowed to the wishes of an individual club. Now it's Canadians turn, and the incredible game goes on and on.

separating the top four clubs.

Victoria West, nursing a one-point lead over Brodies and Gorge Hotel, meets last-place Eddys at Central Park while Gorge faces Esquimalt at Heywood Park and Brodies play Prince and Smith at Bullen Park.

Canadian Scottish, only two points behind West, though running fourth, meets Kickers at Topaz Park in the other game.

In the second division it will be Kickers against Wanderers at Beacon Hill Park, Gorge vs. Vikings at Gordon Head, Kings vs. Navy at HMCS Naden and Dunlops vs. Oak Bay at Carnarvon Park.

All games start at 2 p.m.

United refused to play a road game on Remembrance Day, and again the league bowed to the wishes of an individual club. Now it's Canadians turn, and the incredible game goes on and on.

From week to week no club knows for certain when or where it will play, because the other team involved may decide it isn't up to playing as scheduled. Fans deprived of a rigid schedule cannot look ahead to "big" games between league leaders, because who knows when they'll ever get to meet?

The idea of a club calling off a game because it won't have its strongest players out is ridiculous. Canadians, for instance, have a junior team to draw from, and it hardly seems reasonable Columbus should be allowed postponements just to give it time to fly in players from other leagues.

Findler and his executive should draw up a complete schedule before the season starts, and nothing but unplayable conditions should allow that schedule to be changed. Games postponed by weather should be tacked on the end of the schedule.

Every team has to post a bond before acceptance. Failure to meet a scheduled game should mean forfeiture of two points and an automatic late.

With each postponement, the fine should get bigger.

There'll be howls of protest from every team if Findler ever puts a plan like this into effect, but it's something that has to be done.

Sooner or later, the PCSL has to grow up or pack up.

AS IT STANDS

Current PCSL schedule for this weekend (assuming no changes in the next 48 hours), has Columbus playing New Westminster Royals at Calixter Park Saturday, and Wallace and Firefighters playing there Sunday while North Shore is in Seattle.

Columbus could tie for first place with a victory. At the moment they trail the unbeaten Canadians by two points with a game in hand.

The interesting first-division race in the Victoria and District Soccer League continues Sunday with only two points separating the top four clubs.

Contractors Ask More B.C. Work

B.C.'s ailing heavy construction industry will try to lift itself by its bootstraps and persuade government and primary industry to let more work to contractors and do less themselves.

The Heavy Construction Association of B.C., representing 34 contracting companies, largely in road building, had its annual meeting in Victoria yesterday.

Directors of the association in their annual report said they detect "some slight improvement" in the proportion of work the "provincial highways department lets to contractors."

SOME PORTION

"We believe that, at least, some portion of the work called to tender this year would have been done, according to the pattern of previous years, by day labor."

But the directors said they are "far from satisfied." Barry Charlesworth of Marwell Construction Limited, re-elected president of the association, said at a press conference that the slight improvement in the government's position may have put the province's private construction industry "off the dying-tomorrow list and back on the gravely ill list."

LITTLE REASON

Mr. Charlesworth said he sees little reason for optimism about the prospects for the province's private road construction industry in 1964.

"There may be strengthening conditions in other industries but we're watching it move along without us."

He said he would be surprised if there is not as much heavy construction equipment lying idle in B.C. contractors' yards as is being used by the government department of highways. Equipment owned by B.C. private road contractors is being used to somewhat less than 50 per cent of capacity, he said.

75 PER CENT

The directors' report said almost 75 per cent of the miles of road built by the highways department in the last 10 years, and 70 per cent in 1962, was done by the department's own forces.

Mr. Charlesworth said dollar-value comparisons are not available but the proportion done by the department's own forces would be lower in terms of dollars than miles.

The directors said B.C. Hydro, the B.C. forest service and B.C.'s large private forest products companies also spend substantial sums doing road and other heavy construction with their own forces.

PRIME OBJECTIVE

The directors said contractors ought to be able to work with as little engineering supervision from a body letting a contract as its own crews do. Also, "it must be a prime objective of this association to dispel the feeling that there is no contractor interest in the smaller job."

Mr. Charlesworth said the association is anxious to discuss its problems in a co-operative spirit with representatives of provincial and municipal governments.

He also described steps to association is taking to work with municipal engineers and with associations representing other parts of the construction industry to set common standards and deal with mutual problems.

The directors cited figures showing that in 1960 contractors made an average profit of one per cent on volume of construction performed.

Charlesworth Re-elected

Barre Charlesworth of Marwell Construction Limited was re-elected president of the Heavy Construction Association of B.C. at the association's annual meeting in Victoria yesterday.

R. E. Ainsworth of the Jamieson Construction Company was elected first vice-president and R. F. Binnie of General Construction Company second vice-president. W. B. Laurie of Dawson Construction Limited was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Binnie, Mr. Charlesworth, C. W. Johnson of John Laing and Son, J. N. Patterson of Peter Kiewit and Sons and D. A. Birnie of Standard Oil were elected to the board of directors.

Engineering Student Wins $250

David Bowering of Victoria has won a $250 scholarship for proficiency in civil engineering from the Heavy Construction Association of B.C.

He was one of four B.C. civil engineering students who received scholarships from the association, which held its annual meeting in Victoria yesterday.

The others are Robert Faulkner, Richmond; Douglas Palmer, Kasia; and Anthony Tecklenborg, Langley.

Rupert Route

Ferry Plan Hailed

Announcement that the provincial government is proceeding with development of a Kelsey Bay-Prince Rupert ferry was hailed last night by the Victoria Visitors' Bureau.

"It's a wonderful thing," said G. Conway Parrott.

He said the new ferry will not only provide welcome additional ferry service to the island, but will be a boon to the island's accommodation industry.

CITY, UP-ISLAND

He said travellers proceeding north by way of the new ferry will undoubtedly require overnight accommodation and the accommodation industry will reap the benefit both up-island and in Victoria.

He said, however, he anticipates experience will show one vessel will not provide the necessary frequency of service or carry the traffic which will want to use the ferry.

TWO FERRIES?

"Perhaps the government should be even now considering two ferries."

Premier Bennett said Saturday B.C. will call for tenders for an Island-Prince Rupert ferry as soon as plans can be prepared. He predicted the first ferry will go into service on the 405-mile route between Kelsey Bay and Prince Rupert some time in 1965.

Later, as the northern end of the Island Highway is completed, the southern terminal of the ferry will be moved to Port Hardy, the premier said.

Columbia Talks Re-Open

A vital round of new Columbia River project talks opens in Ottawa on Dec. 2 — but it isn't expected to be the last.

Two teams of technical experts will report on studies covering the proposed sale to the U.S. of B.C.'s share of downstream power benefits.

The studies involved a formula for splitting the B.C. entitlement among a group of 10 public and private power agencies in the U.S., as well as alternative methods of financing the project.

B.C. has demanded enough money from the power sale to pay the cost of the three treaty dams which it must build.

After Jan. 5

Apartment Janitors Pay No Rent

Resident janitors in apartment blocks containing more than 10 suites will pay no rent after Jan. 5, Labor Minister Peterson announced yesterday.

This is one of the provisions of a new industrial relations board order governing minimum wages and working conditions for janitors.

Resident janitors in apartment blocks containing 10 suites or less cannot be required to pay more than $50 a month for accommodation.

The order prohibits owners from deducting rentals from janitors' wages and establishes a new minimum wage for janitors of $1 an hour after three months service. Minimum wage previously was 75 cents an hour.

All janitors are to be given a weekly rest period of not less than 32 consecutive hours and shall receive overtime pay for hours worked in excess of eight per day and 44 per week.

35-Hour Week Goal

NEW YORK (CP) President George Meany kicked off the AFL-CIO's biennial convention Thursday with a call for a 35-hour work week as a key measure to solve what he called the curse of automation and unemployment.

11,500,000 - member U.S. labor executive vice-president, who is expected to reiterate the CLC position that the lakes issue involving the Seafarers' international Union is a Canadian affair and its solution must also be Canadian.

Feeling in convention corridors was that the Canadian question, in which Meany has criticized the Canadian government's trusteeship over maritime unions and segments of the AFL-CIO have condemned the Canadian Labor Congress for accepting it, would not reach the convention floor.

Delegates will hear from the CLC on the matter, however, in a speech by Joe Morris, CLC executive vice-president, who is expected to reiterate the CLC position that the lakes issue involving the Seafarers' international Union is a Canadian affair and its solution must also be Canadian.

Morris had been expected to speak Thursday, but time ran out and he now will deliver his remarks today.

President Kennedy also will address the convention today. Meany's call for the shortened work week was in opposition to the stand taken on this question by Kennedy, who opposes the shortened work week as too costly.

Railway Sabotage Goes On

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese railway officials, still under fire as a result of a triple train wreck last Saturday that killed 162 persons, disclosed yesterday discovery of obstructions on Japan's busiest rail line. The officials said 35 melon-sized stones and two steel drums were placed on rails of the Tokaido main trunk line in Numazu city, 120 miles west of Tokyo.

A freight train motorman saw the objects ahead of his speeding train and managed to stop in time.

Mine Blast Blamed On Runaway

TOKYO (Reuters) — Japanese authorities yesterday tentatively blamed runaway coal cars for sparking the 451-death Kyushu coal mine explosion Saturday. Their investigation came against a background of nationwide "protest meetings" called by the coal miners' union because of alleged inadequate safety precautions. Premier Hayato Ikeda ordered the inquiry into the

Educate Worker—Peterson

Future education of the Canadian work force must be regarded as a matter of national priority, Education Minister Leslie Peterson said here last night.

To an increasing extent the supply of highly-educated, highly-skilled and highly-trained persons will be the true measure of a country's economic, military and even its political potential, he said.

LARGE DEGREE

"I firmly believe that the future of Canada as a nation depends to a very large degree upon the kind and quality of education and training provided for the citizenry."

Mr. Peterson was addressing the annual meeting of the Heavy Construction Association of B.C. during a dinner meeting held in the Empress Hotel. (See other stories, Page 15.)

RIG STAKE

He told association members they have a large stake in education now and can expect "an equally large obligation in respect to bearing a substantial part of the overall cost."

Much of the equipment used at vocational schools was loaned by private companies and the Pipeline Contractors' Association had played "a very prominent role including the placement of graduates."

IDEAL TYPE

"This is one of the best examples that I know of to exemplify the ideal type of cooperation that can exist among labor, management and government in these training programs," he said.

A 15-week course for heavy equipment operators had seen some employers donating or loaning some of the "very expensive" equipment required.

BULLDOZERS

"When it comes to acquiring bulldozers, dump trucks, graders, loaders, low-bed trailers and shovels, you can appreciate that these courses could not be operated without the assistance of employers."

The employer also had "a clear responsibility" of advising educational authorities on the kind of program required at training schools.

It delivers its message in 60 seconds.

In the next day or so, you may learn something new about the taste of rye whisky.

The message takes one minute. And no more than one taste of a whisky called Time.

A gentle whisky. The taste is light, warm, smooth.

You will find you have never known a whisky with a taste like this. You will find yourself comparing it with the whisky you usually buy.

And you may find yourself changing your mind about whiskies.

The whisky in the hourglass bottle does that. The message comes through. Not loud. But clear.

60 seconds. Time enough.

Students Complain Of Old Cafeteria

Since the opening of a new cafeteria in one of the army huts on the University of Victoria's Gordon Head campus, the old cafeteria on the Lansdowne campus has evoked bitter complaints from students. The Lansdowne cafeteria is housed in an old wooden building, which was put into "temporary" use 17 years ago. Students complain that the prices are high compared to the Gordon Head cafeteria.

Mrs. A. Norris, who runs the Lansdowne cafeteria, said that she thought her prices were reasonable and that they had not been raised for six years. Students also claim that the old cafeteria is dirty, and that the line-up system is awkward.

GREATER CHOICE
They would like to see a greater choice of food. The Gordon Head cafeteria offers 26 items, while the Lansdowne menu has 16. The cafeteria is not open at night or on Saturday afternoons, which students feel is an inconvenience.

Brecht to meet a quick demise on Broadway. The other was Mother Courage.

Plummer, Toronto-born and Montreal-raised, and other members of the cast, including Madeleine Shawwood, a Montreal native, protested Merrick's early-closing edict in a meeting at the producer's office.

It was pointed out that people were not buying tickets for the show, which has heavy operating expenses, with a 10-piece jazz band and many scene changes. The show received mixed critical notices.

100 Victorians Will See Bolshoi Ballet

More than 100 Victoria ballet lovers leave for Vancouver and an afternoon with the Bolshoi ballet tomorrow.

Back in June the Bolshoi representative decided that Memorial Arena was no place for a performance by the Russian dancers and the show here was accordingly cancelled. However, a special matinee at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre in Vancouver was later arranged by Famous Artists along with bus transportation which would enable Victorians to return home conveniently.

The idea caught fire and ten busloads of audience leave tomorrow morning at 10 a.m., returning from Vancouver at 6 p.m.

Student War Continues

By JUDITH BAINES

University of Victoria war against Royal Roads continues, with the kidnapping of two university, second-year arts men.

Two students claim they were grabbed by Royal Roads officials illegally when they entered Royal Roads grounds to look for the rotor of the distributor of their car. It had been stolen when they left their car parked for a short period Saturday night near the military college.

CREDENTIALS
They were approached first by the gate commissioner, who directed them to the "castle." There they were met by more commissioners, who demanded their credentials and asked what they were stealing.

The students were then handed over to some cadets for "disciplinary action." There was some question about whether they should be given to the RCMP or the cadets.

TWO HOURS

After waiting for about two hours, the students were taken by an armed guard to a kangaroo court, which found them guilty of belonging to a "civvy" lounge in the mess and wearing slovenly clothes.

Their punishment consisted of running up three flights of stairs five times with their arms pinned to their sides, pushing a can of boot polish down a corridor with their noses, singing Mickey Mouse and Jingle Bells, and doing push-ups.

After returning to their car, it had been "enticed" into Royal Roads by the "military type" who had advised them. The students claimed they looked there for their car.

Business by Shoe-Horn in Saanich

Hall a Three-Ring Circus

With his own office occupied yesterday, Reeve Stanley Murphy takes over the far side of a desk in comptroller-treasurer John Tribe's office for signing of cheques.

Parking

Towing Contract Readied

A contract will be signed with Victoria Super Service Towing to provide tow-away service and storage for vehicles parked illegally in restricted zones during rush hours.

The scale of fees approved yesterday by city council is: towing from downtown location, $4; towing from outside the half-mile circle, $5.50; storage downtown, 50 cents; additional storage exceeding 12 hours, 50 cents per day.

Council instructed city solicitor T. P. O'Grady to prepare the necessary bylaw, which must be finally approved before the new tow-away plan goes into effect. This will probably be in January.

Council approved Ald. Austin Curtis' resolution that "the strongest possible representations" be made to Ottawa for award of contracts to build three new submarines for the RCN in Canadian shipyards.

VITALLY IMPORTANT

Ald. Curtis said the importance of shipbuilding to B.C. and in particular to Victoria is such that no opportunity should be lost to urge the government to patronize Canadian industry.

Saanich, Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Victoria Labor Council and the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to add their voice to the city's plea. Copies will be sent to Mayor Wilson in Ottawa, to David Gross, Liberal MP for Victoria, and to Defence Minister Paul Hellyer who recently announced that the three submarines would be built for Canada in the U.K.

Finance committee next week will consider the question of tax exemption for private schools in a new light. This time it is the question of exempting a portion of a building used for school purposes that will be discussed.

EXEMPTION ASKED

The issue arose yesterday during discussions of a requested tax exemption for Westernham School because one of the two buildings is "25 per cent residential."

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said any portion of building which is being used for school purposes should be exempt from taxes. He added: "Private schools save the taxpayers a great deal of money and they need every dollar they can save to keep operating."

Council approved a salary increase for Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer for Greater Victoria metropolitan board of health. Effective Jan. 1 his salary will jump from $12,480 to $14,640 per annum.

Municipal Employees Play 'Musical Chairs'

By JACK FRY

Saanich property owners will decide by referendum on Dec. 5 whether they want a new municipal hall, but few of them realize what kind of a three-ring circus goes on inside the old building.

Timing is a big thing inside the cramped municipal hall at Royal Oak, where employees move with clockwork precision to keep from bumping into each other while conducting municipal affairs.

On a rainy day when some employees don't go home for lunch, you may see somebody eating at his desk because all chairs are taken in the two-shift lunchroom.

A Colonist reporter dropped in unannounced yesterday to see if conditions at the 52-year-old municipal hall are as bad as council would have the voters believe, in asking their approval for a new $785,000 hall to be built on Vernon Avenue.

Reeve Stanley Murphy's eight-by-ten-foot cubby-hole office was occupied by the municipal solicitor and another man. Reeve Murphy arrived at the hall and borrowed the far side of comptroller-treasurer John Tribe's desk to sign outgoing cheques.

At other times, the little office with no window and no ventilation is used by assistant municipal clerk Alan Ford for dictating committee meeting minutes away from the hubbub of the general office.

Wait Turn

Employees complained that women often have to wait their turn to use an "inadequate rest room."

In one corner of the front office, a person has to wait for a typewriter carriage to slide back before there is room enough to walk past the desk.

Basement Work

But the surprise package is the basement furnace room where three people were busy getting water bills ready to send out. A duplicating machine used for preparation of all corporation minutes and bylaws is located here, along with the bill inserting machine and a posting machine.

The surplus army hut used as a council chamber behind the municipal hall is "not large enough, and has the public virtually sitting right behind members of the council," said Reeve Murphy.

Must Rent Hall

"And for any large scale public hearing we have to rent the community hall next door."

The first municipal hall was built in 1911. Additions were made to the building in 1915 and again in 1948. Surplus army huts were moved to the site in 1958, as council took drastic action to make up for what was described as a "totally inadequate" situation.

Not Enough Space

Development in the municipality has accelerated so fast in recent years that "the present facilities including the temporary army huts have been insufficient for the necessary office space for the past two years," states a leaflet prepared by corporation officials in connection with the Dec. 5 referendum.

Behind a maze of valves and asbestos-covered pipes and furnace in the basement of old municipal hall, Ann Mather gets stack of water bills ready for Leslie Johns who is running inserting machine.

Lightning Storm Seen North of City

Victoria weather office was besieged with telephone calls last night when a brilliant lightning storm passed north of here between 7:30 and 8:15 p.m.

Spectacular cloud-to-cloud lightning was reported moving northwest of Nanaimo as well as north of Greater Victoria and the Patricia Bay Airport during a rainstorm, said a weather office spokesman.

First step toward putting plans for a $1,000,000 recreation centre in the hands of council before Dec. 31 was taken by Oak Bay zoning development and planning committee last night.

The committee will ask council to set a sum of up to $500 for hiring of a quantity estimates engineer to prepare a report of approximate building costs.

Site recommended for construction of the building is Firemen's Park.

VARIED USES

Facilities included in the centre would be a regulation hockey rink, a four or six lane curling rink, an enclosed, heated swimming pool, senior citizens' recreation rooms, clubs and hobby rooms, catering facilities and parking for 400 cars which could later be extended to 600 cars.

PLENTY OF SEATING

The skating rink, which would seat 1,000 spectators, could be converted to a stage entertainment area during the summer and an additional 1,000 seats added.

The swimming pool would be 25 metres long and six standard lanes wide with a 40 foot by 10 foot instruction bay and seating accommodation for 300 spectators.

ONE MAIN CORRIDOR

Plans call for the building to have one main corridor with the recreational facilities on both sides.

Coun. J. D. Watts, committee chairman, said last night the senior citizen's accommodation might later be moved from the recreation centre into a large home in the same immediate area which could also be used as a branch library in the future.

MONEY BYLAW

Financing of the project would be through a money bylaw for the whole capital cost but Coun. Watts pointed out that with the aid of the federal municipal loan fund and the winter works program approximately $170,000 could be saved.

The committee anticipated revenue from the proposed centre would meet operating costs and the cost of year-to-year improvements. Coun. Watts said.

He said if the plan went through, construction would likely begin by next October to take full advantage of the winter works program. The project must be finished by the end of 1966 in order to comply with the municipal loan fund.

City Barbers All Mixed Up

Parade Canvass Today

The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will begin a financial canvass of merchants today for the Nov. 23 Santa Claus parade and for downtown Christmas decorations.

About 250 merchants are to be approached by Tuesday.

Cost of the parade, about $3,000, is to be borne largely by the Jaycees, but a spokesman last night said they will need help from the merchants.

The parade will begin at 10 a.m. at Government and Belleville Streets and go east to Douglas and north on Douglas to Field, where it will disperse.

Other planned Jaycee Christmas projects are a "Christmas ship" taking Santa to the Gulf Islands, Christmas parties for children and the Jaycee Christmas decorations contest.

The controversy over barbershop closing reached a stalemate yesterday amid a welter of confusion.

City council heard eight conflicting letters, petitions and briefs on the subject—including a petition submitted earlier Thursday asking aldermen to forget the whole thing.

Lawyer G. A. Neely presented a brief and a petition signed by 39 of the city's 52 licensed barbers who asked city council not to act on a committee recommendation to remove all regulations on barber shops, which now must close Wednesday.

If this was done, said Mr. Neely, a "very great hardship" would be imposed upon the operators of the 32 one-man barber shops in the city.

He said the local barbers' union, with support of barbers elsewhere in the province, was seeking an amendment to the Municipal Act which would permit individual barbers an option on what day they wished to close.

Meanwhile, he urged council to leave the present bylaw in force.

Some of the 39 barbers who signed this petition repudiated their support of an earlier petition bearing 24 names and asking Monday closing—which started the whole thing.

Since then council has received: the committee's recommendation; a brief from Al Principe supporting the Monday closing petition; a 27-merchant petition from Mayfair shopping centre urging Monday closing; a letter from the barbers' union denouncing the Monday closing petition; and a letter from barber Syrt Wolters objecting to any closing regulations by council.

"All of us are confused, including the barbers," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow. "With all the confusion there's no doubt that the whole matter should go back to the legislative committee for further study."

Lions Meet Today

Lions Club of Victoria will meet in the Empress Hotel at noon today.

ized an application for the borrowing of the full $950,000 required to finance the initial stage of the $2,000,000 civic project.

TOTAL TO QUALIFY

Mr. Young reported discussions with the B.C. department of municipal affairs, which will examine all applications for the federal loans, indicated the full amount would qualify.

Mr. Young said the federal board will make the final decision on whether all or part of the initial financing will qualify for reduced interest rate and 25 per cent rebate on total cost only on consideration of a formal application by Victoria.

CALCULATION GIVEN

He said his $422,000 figure is calculated on the sale of 20-year debentures at an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent bringing the cost with interest charges to $1,589,900.

Federal loans received from the municipal development fund would have an interest rate of 5 1/4 per cent making the total cost $1,557,089.

INTEREST SLASH

A 25 per cent rebate on the completed project would reduce the total cost to $1,167,810. The effective interest rate thus would be 2.05 per cent.

City comptroller James Brumley has gathered all the necessary material to support the city's application and it will be submitted to Ottawa at the earliest possible date.

Mrs. George Murdoch, wife of Reeve Murdoch of Oak Bay, will open the annual tea and sale of the Women's Auxiliary to the Salvation Army Matson Lodge, to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 30, from 2 to 5 p.m., at the lodge. ## ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a cure for that friend of "Plain Folks" who has a habit of turning over the china and examining the silver to hunt for hallmarks.

A cousin of mine had a friend who did the same thing. Everyone was annoyed with her. When the group met for luncheon one day, the snooty woman proceeded to turn over the china plate, as usual.

The hostess had been warned about her. She pasted a piece of adhesive tape on the bottom of the plate with this message: "We Just Knew You'd Look!"

The woman turned three shades of red and has not been known to peek under a plate since that time. Print this, Ann. It may cure some other ill-mannered snoops of this petty habit. —H. M. W.

Dear H. M. W.: Here's your letter and I heartily endorse the gimmick.

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that unless a girl gives in before marriage the fellow is not interested? The story usually goes like this: "If you loved me you'd prove it. If you aren't willing to prove it you don't love me, so we'd better call it quits."

I've been going with this man for several months. We are not teen-agers. Ann, I'm 39 and he is 42. The trouble is I did give in to him a few times but I've thought it over and decided I don't want that kind of relationship outside marriage. Now I'm afraid if I refuse to go along with him he'll drop me.

Please don't tell me to stop seeing this man because I do love him. Furthermore, the next man will have the same idea since all men are alike when it comes to this.—FIGHTING AND LOSING

Dear F. and L.: Sorry, Toots, you lost your trump card. A girl who gives away samples has no right to complain when the man decides he likes the merchandise.

Both you "kids" have been of marriageable age for quite some time. If he won't put the ring on your finger now he never will. Get with it.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been a stepfather for three months and it seems I've had 300 years filled with problems.

My wife admits Betty is spoiled rotten. She tried to make up to Betty for the divorce by catering to her. I needn't describe the results of such manoeuvring.

The week after we were married, Betty smashed up my car and I blew my stack. My wife was furious because I lost my temper.

Two weeks ago my own son went into the service and left his car in our garage. I told Betty she could not drive his car because he wanted it in good shape when he came home. When I learned she was driving his car on the fly I put it in a commercial garage with orders that no one be permitted to take it out.

Betty tried to take the car out and failed. Then she told her mother I had humiliated her before the garage men. Now she refuses to speak to me. I'm tempted to turn her over my knee—just once? Shall I? —STYMIED

Dear Stymied: No. It would make her despise you even more. Spanking a 16-year-old girl is no way to build a decent father-daughter relationship. You need professional advice to learn how to cope with this girl. I urge you to get help. And it may well be that she needs some professional help, too.

Confidentially to JUST WONDERING: Heaven??? No! But not jail, please. "Daddy is away working" is a good answer. It will satisfy them and you will not be lying since he is actually doing some work there.

Rustic Log Home Scene Of Traditional Wedding

The rustic log home of the bride's parents at Sooke was the setting recently for the marriage of Sylvia Bernice Adcock and Mr. William John Robinson, Rev. E. A. Wright performed the candlelight ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Adcock and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, also of Sooke.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride walked through an arch of greenery decorated with dainty wedding bells, white large vases of bronze, yellow and white chrysanthemums flanked the doorway.

She was lovely in a floor-length gown in train in white chiffon over tulle, styled with fitted bodice, embroidered round neckline and lily-point sleeves. Her illusion silk net veil misted from a matching headpiece. For "something old" she wore an amethyst on a heavy gold chain, a family heirloom. Deep mauve feathered chrysanthemums and white gardenias were in her bouquet.

Mrs. Timothy R. Goudie, sister of the bride, was in a silver green brocade sheath style gown with matching jacket and flower headpiece. Mrs. Gary Adcock, bride's sister-in-law, wore a similarly-styled gown in blue and silver brocade. Both attendants carried cascade bouquets of deep pink feathered carnations.

Mr. Dale Victor Arden was best man. Mr. Gary M. Adcock, Mr. Timothy R. Goudie and Mr. Donald Robinson were ushers.

Mr. Thomas Cross proposed the toast to the bride at a reception held later in the Shirley Community Hall. Three-tier wedding cake, made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mr. Leo Teygeman, centred the lace-covered bride's table.

For a motor trip on Vancouver Island the bride changed to a charcoal wool suit with accessories in tone and a teal-colored coat. A white gardenia corsage completed her ensemble.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are now making their home at Otter Point on the West Coast Road.

Special and out-of-town guests were Mrs. Edna May Adcock, bride's paternal grandmother, New Westminster; Mrs. Bertha Brown, maternal grandmother, Victoria; Miss Nancy Scott, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fry, Duncan; Misses Marnie and Kathy Campbell, Trail; Miss Mary Currie, Winnipeg.

Couple Married Here To Reside at Comox

FO and Mrs. William James Tulloch were piped from St. Aidan's Church and into a reception in Holyrood House by Piper Gordon Ross, following their recent wedding.

Rev. A. G. MacLeod conducted the double-ring ceremony that united Frances Dean McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hibbert McLeod, 4160 Glenford Avenue, and the son of Mrs. Pauline Tulloch, Belleville, Ont.

Standards of white chrysanthemums decorated the church. Tapered candelabra were at the altar and guest pews were marked with McLeod tartan and heather rosettes. Soloist was Stan Martin, accompanied by Mrs. Vera Barclay.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace over peau de soie satin was floor-length and slightly in train. The fitted bodice, embroidered in seed pearls and sequins had a Sabrina neckline and the bouffant skirt was styled with apron front flounced with pleated French tulle edged with sequins and mother of pearl.

A white rose trimmed with seed pearls held the chapel-length veil of scalloped illusion net. Her jewelry was a pearl bracelet and earrings, a gift of the groom. For "something old, borrowed and blue," she wore a bracelet given to her by her late grandmother, Mrs. John Smith of Comox, and a blue garter belonging to Mrs. M. Evans, Vancouver.

Four attendants, Mrs. D. Morris, the bride's sister; Mrs. Evans, Miss Frances Flitton, Nanaimo, and Miss Gail Wilson, wore red velvet gowns with arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums. Their pearl earrings, worn with pearl necklaces, were a gift from the bride.

Best man was Ft. Lt. Weedy Feedham, and the ushers, FO P. Scholz, FO B. Eccles and FO Wanless.

A three-tier cake, made by Mr. and Mrs. F. Morris Sr., centred the bride's table at the reception. Red sweetheart roses completed the decor. Duncan MacFarlane proposed the toast. The McLeod orchestra played for dancing and Stan Martin sang.

Special guests included Wing Cmdr. G. Inglis; Mr. John Smith, the bride's grandfather; Mr. and Mrs. R. Ennis and Mrs. L. Petrie.

Honeymoon is being spent in Mexico and touring the southern States. The couple will return to live at Kye Bay, Comox.

For travelling the bride wore a white tailored suit and white hat, both trimmed with ocelot fur. Her accessories were black and her corsage red rosebuds.

The bridal bouquet was sent to the groom's grandmother, Mrs. E. V. Jackman at Belleville, Ont.

Harrison Honeymoon

The lace handkerchief carried cake set with yellow tulle by Sharon Dingle Dreaper for her marriage to Robert Evan Thomas on Saturday evening. The honeymoon is being spent at Harrison Hot Springs and the couple will return to live at 335 Richmond Avenue.

The bride travelled in a three-piece grey wool suit, cranberry red accessories and pillbox hat. Her corsage was a gardenia.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. G. Gemeny and family, of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. R. Ferguson and family, of Vancouver, B.C., and G. Watt, Redondo Beach, Calif.

The wedding gown, elegantly fashioned of nylon tulle over rustling taffeta, was floor-length with a long front overskirt edged in Guipure lace that opened at the back to show a full cascade of chiffon front two fabric roses at the waist.

The groom's gift, culture pearl necklace and earrings, was the bride's only jewelry and she carried yellow Talisman roses and white stephanotis. Mr. Dreaper gave his daughter-in-law a reception.

Canon George Biddle heard the wedding vows in St. John's Anglican Church. White and bronze chrysanthemums were used in decoration and to mark guest pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dreaper, of Nelson, B.C., and Mrs. E. J. Thomas, of Victoria.

Maid of honor, Miss Bonnie Dreaper, and the bridesmaids, Miss Heather Kittson and Miss Joan Gemeny, wore gold brocade dresses with matching shoes and wedding-ring hats, and carried bronze toned chrysanthemums. All three wore crystal necklaces.

Best man was Dave Thomas, and the ushers were R. Marwood and G. Watt.

The reception was held in the Elks Club, where bronze and gold-toned chrysanthemums and harvest wheat decorated the room. The bride's table was centred with a four-tier wedding.

Money Unit Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States and nine other industrial countries are considering the creation of a new unit of international currency, the New York Times says.

A Washington dispatch says the unit would be the heart of a plan for improving the international monetary system and gradually lessening the burden on the dollar as its keystone.

The countries were listed as Britain, Canada, Japan, France, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, Italy and Sweden.

PARIS CLUB

These countries and the United States were described as the Paris Club or Group of 10—the nations that agreed in Paris last month to make a study to determine whether the present monetary system is likely to be constructive in the future and, if so, how to avoid this.

AID PROSPERITY

The story also says in part: The plan for a new currency unit is one of several related ideas under study. All have the same basic objective: to maintain world prosperity by allowing the currencies of the Western European nations to play a larger role in the international monetary system, known as the gold exchange standard.

The system has been under strain recently, mainly because of a deficit in the international payments of the United States.

Police Purchase Breathalyzer; Lawyers Differ

A Breathalyzer machine, used to measure the alcohol content of the breath, has been purchased by the Victoria city police department, and will soon go to work to help settle arguments as to whether or not a driver is impaired.

Yesterday the Breathalyzer was demonstrated before about a score of members of the Victoria Law Society.

TOOK COURSE

Demonstrator was city police identification officer Bernard Brennan, who recently completed a training course in use of the machine, and who has trained 12 other men of the department in its use.

The machine, he said, was a measure of the alcohol in the system of a given human being, and was not intended to be conclusive in itself on the question of impairment.

CORROBORATIVE

City lawyers, questioned later, agreed that the value of the machine lay in its use as corroborative evidence—evidence that must be interpreted carefully in the light of other factors, and all to contribute to the ultimate decision of the magistrate.

They agreed that the Breathalyzer could be helpful to a driver who showed many outward signs of impairment but was actually suffering from some illness.

VOLUNTARY

Breathalyzer tests will be made on a purely voluntary basis. If anyone brought in for a test feels he doesn't want it, he is free to go without.

Legal reaction varied to the question of how they would advise a client about the test. Jack Gatehouse said he would advise a client not to take the test. Lloyd McKenzie, who now does perhaps more prosecuting than defending in courts, said he would probably advise a client to make up his own mind.

David Hummel felt the Breathalyzer was a fine machine, but that interpretation held the key to its value in court.

He would hope that anyone taken in for a test would call his lawyer and his family physician, ask both to attend, and do nothing until they were with him.

"The Breathalyzer is a useful tool, but I would hate to see it used without qualified interpretation. Otherwise it could be dangerous," he said.

MORE ORDERED

Breathalyzers have also been ordered by Oak Bay and Saanich police departments. Esquimalt Police Chief James Smart said if the need arises his department will use the city Breathalyzer.

The Breathalyzer has been used for some time in Vancouver, but it is new to Vancouver Island.

World Law Lecture Attracts 18

First lecture last night of the newest adult education course, Planning for World Law, attracted 18 students, ranging from university students to the elderly.

The turnout for a course of this type, which examines the problems of world government and world peace, is considered excellent by night school officials.

Discussion leader is Ian Arrol and textbooks used are by Prof. C. S. Burdick, Clark and Sohn, and Philip Van Slyke.

Classes will be held every Thursday until Feb. 6 in the staff lunch room at Central Junior High School from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Cost of the course, including textbooks, is $12.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Edward R. Murrow, one of North America's most famous chain-smokers until he lost a lung to cancer last month, has apparently given up cigarettes.

But his brother, retired air force Brig.-Gen. Lacey V. Murrow, said it might not make any difference, anyway. Gen. Murrow said his brother, who is director of the U.S. Information Agency, "never inhaled a cigarette in his life."

ALSO LOST LUNG

Gen. Murrow, four years older than his brother at 59, said he also lost a lung after a tumor was discovered about three years ago. He said he "unwisely" has never stopped smoking and, unlike his brother, he inhales.

Edward returned to work Tuesday for a few hours.

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Frederick G. Beck, a cancer research specialist, says smoking accounts for more deaths than auto accidents or any of the known viruses or bacteria.

He told a United Church seminar on smoking Wednesday that 2,000 to 3,000 persons in Canada died of lung cancer in 1962. He said lung cancer is the most prevalent disease arising from smoking.

Dr. Beck, associate cancer research chemist at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y., said the number of deaths due to heart and bronchial diseases bred by smoking makes cigarettes a greater killer than traffic accidents or infectious illnesses.

OTTAWA (UPI) — Health Minister Judy Lamarch said a national conference on smoking and lung cancer later this month will review the evidence linking the two and consider possible courses of action.

Miss Lamarch said during debate of her departmental estimates she expects about 60 delegates to attend the two-day conference which will open Nov. 25 — the opening date of the federal-provincial fiscal conference.

City's Ensign Motors Wins New Franchise

Fast-Expanding Company
Now Located on Pandora

Ensign Motors has been named exclusive Chrysler, Plymouth and Valiant dealers for the Victoria area, it was announced this week.

Ensign, which started as a used car lot in 1957 with a staff of two, has grown into a modern service station, parts department and car sales enterprise employing more than 30 people.

Established by Peter Dixon and Eric Lewis, Ensign entered the import car market in 1958, and its success in the car sales field has led to its new appointment by the Chrysler Corporation.

Premises of the company includes a modern showroom and sales area for new and used cars, and is capable of a turnover of about 1,000 cars per year.

Major Garage

A 10-stall garage is stocked with the latest equipment to handle Chrysler products as well as all other makes of cars. Its mechanics have been trained by Chrysler personnel.

Also included in the lot at Pandora and Quadra is a Chevron gasoline station, open 15 hours a day, every day.

Glen Dunlop, manager of Ensign's large parts department, has a line of parts capable of servicing any Chrysler product, whether new or used, and handles both retail and wholesale trade.

Ensign was originally established at 2017 Quadra, but moved to its new location at 904 Pandora in September of 1961.

Corner Site

The corner location is a landmark spot for automobiles, having long been a service station site and a former Ford-Mercury dealership.

The Ensign plant covers a floor area of more than 5,000 square feet, including showroom, offices, sales, parts, service and body departments, with used car section and service station adjoining. Service manager is Ken Pepper.

Dixon

Mr. Dixon says Ensign is proud to have the Chrysler-Plymouth-Valiant dealership, because Chrysler is one of Canada's largest and most respected names in the automotive business.

"Chrysler showed a terrific sales increase last year," Mr. Dixon said. "It has shown an increase in penetration as high as 36 per cent, and Valiant has become Canada's biggest-selling compact car."

High Quality

"Part of its sales success is due to its high quality, backed up by a five-year, 50,000-mile warranty," he said.

Ensign is the second Chrysler dealership to be opened in Victoria, but has exclusive rights to the sale of the Plymouth car in this area.

Ensign Motors was chosen by the Chrysler Corporation because of its excellent sales record, modern, well-equipped facilities, and highly trained mechanics and other personnel.

The company will offer a variety of models and colors in each of the three types of car sold by it for Chrysler.

More Quints
Topper, Chihuahua who gave birth to five pups by caesarian section, watches soulfully as owner Bill Burk, of Chattanooga, feeds one of quints with bottle. Five-pup litter is quite a feat for Chihuahua. Topper had to have blood transfusion before she could stand surgery. — (AP Photofax)

Garden Notes

Planting Gets Priority

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRUS

It is a toss-up whether the spring or the fall is the busiest season of the year for the keen gardener. Right now, the essential fall chores are piling up to the point where it is difficult to decide just where to get started.

In assigning priorities, try to decide which piece of work will not wait, and do it immediately, soil and weather conditions permitting, no matter how much more interesting another job may be.

The digging over of the vegetable plot and any vacant flower beds, the pruning of trees and shrubs, garden alterations, construction of fences, arbors, trellises and the like—all these are on the list of necessary fall and winter work, but planting and transplanting are by far the most urgent.

It makes a tremendous difference if fruit trees and small fruits, roses and flowering shrubs are planted while there is still some congenial warmth in the soil, while most of the pruning chores can be done any time before the middle of March.

Another point to remember is this: While pruning and training can be done between showers during a wetish period, planting and digging are possible only when the soil is in a reasonably workable condition.

Soil structure can be damaged irreparably by even walking on it while wet, much less digging it.

It is best, therefore, to make how while the sun shines, pressing on with all the digging, transplanting and planting of newly-purchased plants whenever the soil is dry enough, holding the pruning and training jobs in reserve against the time when the soil is a sea of goosy mud.

Incidentally, when you tackle the pruning and tying-in of wall-trained fruit trees, vines, cane fruits and the like, the work goes much better in dampish weather. The shoots are more flexible and less likely to break as you train them into position, and if you are using the old-time gardener's raffia for your tying rather than the newer-plastic ties, it handles much better when damp.

I must confess that I keep putting off the job of cutting out the old, flowered canes of the rambler roses and tying in the new ones. Ideally, this should be done as soon as blooming ceases in order to give the new canes plenty of exposure to sunlight and air to ripen their wood. However, it seems to me that you lose all the autumn beauty of the colored hips and tinted foliage when this job is done promptly.

On the other hand, grape vines and their near relatives, the Virginia creepers, should be pruned as soon as possible after the leaves have fallen.

This will give the pruning wounds a chance to heal and harden before sap-rises in early spring brings the danger of bleeding.

Clematis of the Jackman and viticella-types may be pruned any time now. Both these groups bear their lovely blossoms on young growths which emerge in the spring, and all last summer's shoots which have borne flowers should be cut back to within six inches of the old wood.

Nellie Moser and similar kinds of Clematis are pruned in an entirely different fashion. This group bears its flowers in early summer from shoots arising from last year's growth, and these vines need only a light pruning of the tips of older growths and a little thinning out of weak, unthrifty shoots.

Never put the knife to Clematis montana at this season of the year. All the young growths of this group will be garlanded with flowers next May, and by pruning now, you would be cutting away next year's blossoms. Any cutting necessary to keep the vine shaping should be done immediately after the flowering period.

He Deals in Grave Matters

I'm thinking of writing a book called How to Repel Sales Pitches and Defend Yourself by Telephone.

The other day, while I was on vacation at home, a man phoned me and tried to sell me a grave.

The salesmen have already got a book. It's called How to Increase Sales and Put Yourself Across by Telephone.

In 262 pages this breezy manual outlines the whole mystique of selling anything from life insurance to air conditioners over the phone.

It tells how to make the cold pitch: "Mr. King, this is Bob Ralston. You and I haven't met. However..."

And how to get an appointment: "Would tomorrow morning at 9:30 be all right, or would Friday morning at 10:40 be better?"

The prospect, of course, does not want an appointment at either time. But he's tricked into thinking he has to make a choice. He says Friday would be better.

It also tells how the salesman can achieve more effective speech by breathing from the epigastrium and practicing his vowels in front of a mirror.

"Stand about 18 inches from the mirror. Put your hands up, palms facing the mirror. Now, push the vowels out until your hands touch the mirror..."

You can see that the average man picking up his phone when it rings, thinking it's probably only some television poll or his wife, is no match for the master of this book.

My own experience the other day went like this: "Hello, Smith here."

"Mr. Smith, this is Charley Tweak. You don't know me, but I represent Mortality Meadows, the modern mortuary."

"My God! Is somebody dead?"

"Ha ha, Mr. Smith! I'm glad to see you have a sense of humor. No, sir, Mr. Smith. We aren't dead yet. But one must plan ahead."

"What is it you want, Mr. Twit?"

Sheilah Graham Predicts:

'My Girl Shirlee' Won't Be Single Very Much Longer

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Henry Fonda flew to New York for his daughter Amy's 10th birthday. And there was a girl at the airport seeing him off. She wore a red bandana over her hair. And those long black boots that are so fashionable. I wondered who she was until Henry introduced me to "my girl, Shirlee Adams." "I'll be back in a week," said Henry. "To star in Sex—you should pardon the expression—And The Single Girl. I know one single girl who is not going to be single much longer."

Simone Simone was all set to fly from Paris to New York for the premiere of her new picture, The Naked Autumn—they've even got Autumn Nude—but Simone has a bad case of ulcers. She must stay home with that Gorgeous Yves Montand.

Benay Veneta went to London to see Fred Clark in Never Too Late, and maybe it isn't too late to revive their marriage. A girl doesn't go 3,000 miles just to see a play she has already seen in New York.

Terence Young is the most in-demand director in England since the smash success of his second James Bond movie, From Russia With Love... But when Terence was making that passion picture with Jayne Mansfield about a year ago, he had to hock his car and every cent he had when the money people failed to deliver the cash.

Vivien Leigh hit the half hundred mark last week and celebrated by stating that she would appear in Tovarich—in London. She must take a long rest first.

I wish that Judy Garland would go on a weight-building diet. She is now down to 94 pounds and that is too fast and too little. Judy has filmed 13 TV shows, with another 16 or so to go. That's a lot of work and she will need all her strength to complete the assignment.

Harold Mirisch, whose company paid more than $300,000 for the film rights of A Shot in the Dark, is planning to change the title. "Because it is so different from the play. In five years time we could make another film called, A Shot in the Dark—it would be the same as the play. Peter Sellers and Bony Schneider co-star in this version. I still think that Leslie Caron would be much better—perhaps she will do the 1968 version."

It's a good thing that Carol Lawrence came back to Hollywood and husband Robert Goulet. She was getting more and more unhappy in New York and I hear that she burst into tears while rehearsing for a recent TV-taping. And I'm not sure she completed the assignment. As I say, it's a good thing she came home.

Strongman To Return?

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A power struggle among the Ba'ath Socialists of Iraq led to the exile of eight party leaders Thursday. Then a bewildering turn of events appeared to open a way for the return of party strongman Ali Salem el Saadi from brief exile in Spain.

Around Town

Sea Hunt For Body Cancelled

Search has been called off for the body of Harold F. Thorne, 19, of 4379 Shelbourne, who drowned last Saturday when the car he was driving skidded off the wharf into the harbor at Port Renfrew.

Rough weather has made a thorough search of the water, either by divers or from the air, impossible.

A 350-name petition calling for a total ban on fireworks in Victoria—except for Chinese New Year, got a mixed reception from city council yesterday.

The petition, submitted by John Bean, 615 Vancouver, urged new regulations be modelled on those passed in Vancouver last week banning sale or use of firecrackers, with the exception of non-explosive fireworks.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow supported the ban. Ald. Austin Curtis objected it would end public displays.

Ald. J. L. W. McLean said he'd rather see an outright ban on sales to children and juveniles and Ald. Lily Wilson said this wouldn't do much good because adults might buy fireworks but it would still be the children who set them off. Council referred the matter to committee, but instructed city solicitor T. P. O'Grady to draw up a petition asking a change in the provincial fireworks regulations that would reduce the present seven-day period during which firecrackers may be purchased before Halloween.

Ald. Millard Mooney was named acting mayor by city council yesterday, in the absence of both Mayor R. B. Wilson, in Montreal on city business, and Ald. Arthur Dowell, who was designated acting mayor at the beginning of the year. Council sent a get-well message to Ald. Dowell, who last week underwent a serious operation at Rochester, Minnesota.

There is a possibility the 1965 convention of the Canadian Tourist Association will be in Victoria. Victoria Visitor Bureau commissioner William Hawkins said last night. Mr. Hawkins returned to Victoria this week from this year's Montreal convention. Next year's meeting will be in Saskatchewan.

Miles Of Locusts

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—The locusts are swarming across South Africa's Cape Province in an invasion unrivalled in 30 years.

A farmer in the northern part of the province reported Wednesday he had driven his car through a cloud of locusts eight miles long. Other drivers on the main highway from Cape Town to Johannesburg pulled off the road until the blinding locust clouds passed.

Mainline trains have been delayed because their wheels slip on tracks covered with locusts.

The government is spending $300,000 ($1,500,000) daily fighting the crop-eating locust invasion which covers about 30,000 square miles.

Victoria CPO In Hospital In Honolulu

A Victoria chief petty officer apparently suffering internal injuries is in hospital in Honolulu. It was learned last night, CPO Ronald Denison Hale Webster, 37, 3421 Veteran Street, off the fleet maintenance ship HMCS Cape Breton, was not believed to be seriously injured at press time.

A navy spokesman here said last night that CPO Webster was transferred from the Cape Breton some 200 miles north-east of Hawaii to the destroyer escort HMCS Skeena, which carried the injured man back to Honolulu.

Nature of the man's injuries was not immediately known here, said the navy spokesman. CPO Webster's wife, Barbara, was reported to be in Honolulu.

Young Canada Week

Island Author Book Medalist

Roderick Haig-Brown, Campbell River, writer of fishing and outdoors stories for adults and children, has won the Canadian Library Association's medal for the best children's book of the year in English.

Mr. Haig-Brown won the award, announced as Young Canada Book week opened, with his book, The Whale People, the story of the Indians of the Hothath tribe who hunted the great whales of the Pacific.

FRENCH WINNER
Winner of the medal for the best children's book in French was Miss Cecile Chabot, who wrote Freere, part of the trilogy, Contes du Ciel et Paysanne.

When Sir Robert's gin recipe came from England, this old "cooking pot" came too

Same thing with us. In distilling Sterling Gin, we'd feel lost without our old English copper Pot Still.

The one in the picture is at least 100 years old. It came to Canada in the 1920's—when we imported Burnett's entire distillery to make gin from Sir Robert Burnett's famous old English formula.

Most modern stills are much larger—as much as 10 times larger. And we know that switching to such mass-producing monsters would save us money, time and trouble.

But our gin wouldn't taste the same. The way things are, we make it slowly—just a little at a time. Hovering over it. Sniffing. Tasting. Making sure every "run" is as smooth and dry as the last.

If we ever retire these miniature stills, it will only be because we can no longer afford to make our Sterling Gin in small, unhurried batches.

Meanwhile, try it—won't you?

Strachan on CMA Plan:

'They Can't Believe in Freedom'

Proponents of further restrictive legislation on picketing, as proposed to the B.C. cabinet yesterday, "can't really believe in freedom or free enterprise," says the B.C. opposition leader.

B.C. New Democratic Party leader Robert Strachan said that the Canadian Manufacturers Association, which presented a brief to the council yesterday, is "supposed to be in free enterprise."

"It's obvious the people don't believe in free enterprise because they're asking for regimentation," he said. "I would advise these people to re-examine their philosophy."

FURTHER TIGHTEN

The recommendation would further tighten, controversial Bill 43 and would, among other things, require a picketer to carry written authorization from his union.

"If they really want to protect trade unions from unorthodox behavior they should ask the government to repeal Bill 43 and leave the unions free to protect themselves," Mr. Strachan said.

"As a person who believes in freedom of the individual, with responsibility, I can't go along with this regimentation," he said.

Victoria Labor Council secretary-treasurer A. W. Toome said the request seems to be for "just an extension" of the restrictive labor legislation now in force and he had "rather suspected" such a request would be forthcoming.

"Once they run through some restrictive legislation, then they find some little flaw and they think they want more."

Mr. Toome, who is at the annual meeting in Vancouver of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said that restrictive trade legislation is not going to make trade unions more responsible but will "result in something other than a free trade union movement."

This, he said, would be to the detriment of British Columbia.

He said he could not comment in detail on the CMA proposal without having studied it point by point.

But he said, under present legislation picketers have been hampered on picket lines while carrying signs with more information than the association seems to ask for on the identification cards.

15 White Clerics Jailed

WILLIAMSTON, N.C. (AP)—

Fifteen white ministers, including four young seminary students, were jailed here Thursday after leading a small group of Negro demonstrators in an anti-segregation march.

The clergymen, all from the New England area, refused to post bonds of $500 and elected to remain in jail. An officer at the jail reported all refused their evening meal and that they apparently were planning to fast until their release.

Scores of police and state troopers patrolled this farming community of 6,000 until well into the night.

There were two demonstrations in the downtown area Thursday. The first, led by two of the northern ministers carrying wooden crosses, resulted in the arrest of 34 Negroes, including 22 under 16 years of age.

All of the adults were jailed on charges of unlawful assembly, parading without a permit, and obstructing vehicular and pedestrian traffic. The ministers were in this demonstration.

Later, 24 demonstrators, most of them teen-agers, marched to the county courthouse. They later dispersed.

WEAR MASKS

North America's Hopi Indians believed themselves transformed into the spirits represented by the masks they wear on ceremonial occasions.

Carpenters Productive Half Time?

TORONTO (CP)—The National Research Council says a study just completed shows that carpenters' and laborers on typical construction projects are only productive for 35 per cent of their working day.

The report blamed both management and labor for responsibility of present inadequacies of construction practices.

Underwear No Excuse

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Fallen underwear caused him to stagger when he left his car, Jean Nadon told Magistrate W. S. Gardner Thursday when he appeared on an impaired driving charge.

Nadon, of suburban Mount Joy Township, said a button in his two-piece underwear suit broke, causing the pants to slip below his waist, hampering his walking.

After hearing police evidence that Nadon staggered, smelt strongly of alcohol and was unable to complete some of the sobriety tests he was given, Magistrate Gardner fined him $100.

Store Staff Boosts City Appeal

Donation of $1,120 from the staff at Woodward's brought total United Appeal collections up to $541,385 yesterday afternoon.

The total is only $58,715 short of the $600,000 objective.

Some employees groups, federal and provincial employees, the Navy and some companies are still to be heard from and there are several hundreds of residential hits to be turned in before the campaign is closed Friday.

NDP

Bitter Battle Likely

It will be post-mortem time for the New Democratic Party at its annual convention which opens Saturday at Burnaby's Villa Hotel.

Interest in the convention among the party faithful has come as a surprise even to NDP officials.

250 MAY SHOW

Where about 200 delegates were originally expected, there are signs 350 may show up.

What many of them will want to know is what went wrong during the election campaign.

Party leader Robert Strachan and other top officials felt 1963 would see them form B.C.'s first socialist government. Instead they lost four seats and gained two for a net loss of two.

MODERATE CAMPAIGN

Some segments of the party have placed blame for the setback on Mr. Strachan and on campaign chairman Tom Berger. The NDP ran a "moderate" type of campaign and these two are said to have engineered it.

Among 222 resolutions which have been presented for debate at the Saturday-Sunday convention are many urging the party to take two smart steps to the left and leave moderation to the moderates.

HANG TO JOB

But Mr. Strachan is expected to hang onto his job for the time being.

Standard procedure for the party at convention time is to accept the leadership endorsement of the NDP caucus. So far there is no indication of a caucus revolt.

IN-FIGHTING

But this doesn't mean there won't be some bitter in-fighting. It just means that the hottest squabbles will be behind closed doors, probably on Saturday afternoon when Mr. Berger presents his report.

Mr. Strachan will address the convention at 10 a.m. on Saturday and again—assuming he is still the leader—at 1:45 p.m. on Sunday. National NDP leader Tommy Douglas will address the convention Sunday afternoon.

Victorians In RCAF Officer Plan

Two Victorians are among the 230 young men who recently enrolled in the RCAF under the Regular Officer Training Plan. Enrolled at the College Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean is D. L. Simpson, of 306 West Burnside.

Named in the list of university selected RCAF junior matriculation candidates is M. S. Davis, 2855 Inez Drive.

Of the 230 officer trainees, 48 have enrolled at Royal Roads, of which four are from B.C.

From this province are R. W. Brooks, Langley; J. N. Fell, Mission City; J. H. Latimer, Nelson; and R. A. Rugge, Kitimat.

Quiet Menace Since 1928

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Cecelia Baatz became suspicious Wednesday about two bottles that had been around her house since 1928 and took them to the police. They discovered the bottles contained enough nitroglycerin "to level an entire city block."

Police took the explosive to a city park, routed all traffic away from nearby streets and burned the nitroglycerin in a pile of newspapers.

Mrs. Baatz remembered someone named "Joe" brought the bottles to her home in 1928.

Announcing: a new NO LIMIT Road Hazard Guarantee on all Goodyear auto tires

NO LIMIT ON MONTHS / NO LIMIT ON MILES / NO LIMIT AS TO ROADS

NO LIMIT AS TO SPEED / NO CERTIFICATE REQUIRED FOR WARRANTY ADJUSTMENT

Effective immediately, all Goodyear automobile tires are guaranteed against defects in workmanship and materials and all normal road hazards—blowouts, fabric breaks and cuts—for the entire life of the tread.

Continued improvements in materials and workmanship which lead to improved quality and value, make it possible for Goodyear to once again lead the industry in customer service. This new guarantee is backed by the more than 80,000 Goodyear dealers in Canada and the United States.

What does this new guarantee mean to you? In three words . . . worry-free driving. If you have any kind of trouble, anywhere, the nearest Goodyear dealer (could be thousands of miles away from where you bought your tires) will make an on-the-spot adjustment, based on the tread depth left on the tire and the current Goodyear price. No warranty certificate required.

What does this mean if you are on a trip? Sure you checked your tires before you left, but the unexpected is always happening. Previously tire trouble could ruin your vacation. Now, you are protected.

Wherever you drive in Canada or the United States you're never far away from a Goodyear dealer. He's there to help you anytime you're in trouble. We guarantee it.

If you're not driving on Goodyear tires . . . switch to the only brand with the NO LIMIT guarantee!

This guarantee applies to every auto tire Goodyear manufactures

Another reason why
More people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind

2,000 Hear Evangelist

More than 2,000 came last night to hear evangelist Barry Moore tell them about a God of love, at the Greater Victoria Crusade for Christ meeting in Central Junior High School auditorium.

Extra seats were brought into the auditorium, which was filled to capacity with the largest crowd yet to turn out during the revival series, which will continue through Sunday. Nearly 50 persons came forward last night to publicly declare their allegiance to Christ. Evangelist Moore told the crowd that Jesus Christ died on a cross to save a world of lost sinners. In that he offered himself as a sacrifice in place of any sinners who would believe in Him.

GREATEST PREACHER

"Beloved, did you know that Jesus Christ was the greatest preacher on hell and hell-fire that was ever known?"

"Do you realize that the One who was nailed on the cross for you—the gentle Jesus, who died for you—preached this truth?" he asked.

There is no second chance to after death to decide on heaven, or hell. "Dying time is fixing time forever," he said, urging people to decide now to believe that Christ can be their savior.

Even if one does not believe in hell-fire, the separation from loved ones and friends would be torment enough. Hell was not prepared for you, but for the devil and his fallen angels," said the evangelist.

FREE-WILL CHOICE

It is a free-will choice—if one chooses Satan, he will receive Satan's reward. But if one chooses Christ, he will receive eternity in His presence, and a new dimension of living in the present life, Mr. Moore said.

Oldest Member

Oldest member of the Press Gallery, James Morton, aged 83, was presented with a picture of himself by Judge J. B. Clearidge at last night's meeting of the Canadian Authors' Association. The picture will go into the B.C. archives. He served as secretary to Premier John Oliver and later for Dr. S. E. Tolmie and Dr. J. D. MacLean.—(William A. Boucher)

NDP Denies Blast At Labor Link

TORONTO (CP)—The National director of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC), was commenting on views expressed by Mr. Scott in a letter addressed to NDP Leader T. C. Douglas and distributed to all NDP federal and Ontario candidates and to the party's provincial council.

Mr. Scott, an unsuccessful candidate in York Centre in the last two federal elections, said the NDP's link with the trade union movement has done more harm than good.

"The five cents a month we get from approximately 200,000 indifferent trade unionists is hardly worth the political price we have to pay in other ways," said Mr. Scott in his letter. "It is also unhealthy to be so dependent upon this one source of funds because it has had an inhibiting effect on party deliberations."

Said Mr. Park: "The NDP gets the bulk of its financing, not from the trade union movement, but through individual contributions from the rank and file."

Federation to Probe Firing of Trainman

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Federation of Labor is going to investigate a trainman's claim that he was dismissed by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway because he is anti-Social Credit.

"Unfortunately government employees haven't yet got the same rights as ordinary union workers. "PGE is a government set-up. I'm meeting representatives of PGE workers attending the B.C. Federation of Labor congress."

Meanwhile, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen announced earlier they will investigate Raymond Bagley's claims. But a union spokesman refused to discuss the case.

Clothing By Bale Received

Last weekend's Junior Chamber of Commerce-run clothing drive for Goodwill Industries brought in enough clothing to keep 60 Goodwill employees working four or five months, a Joyce spokesman said last night.

He said the donation of trucks for the campaign by the navy and a number of firms, and the work of the Victoria Radio Club, the Hi-Y Club and the Y-Teens were indispensable to the campaign's success.

It took an entire day to fill a rented warehouse with proceeds of the drive, and the warehouse was jammed, he said.

Hoax Carried Too Far

Seaman Plays Chaplain. Ends Up in Cafe Rumpus

A leading seaman from HMCS Naden is in trouble because he apparently carried a hoax a little too far.

In the first place he was in a chaplain's garb and in the second place he was at a party, behaving as no chaplain should behave, according to reports.

STARTED WITH GIRL

It all started when the sailor, a Protestant, was going out with a Roman Catholic girl. She wanted to marry him, but he protested. They were of different faiths, he said, and set out to prove it.

NAVY CHAPLAIN

One night he met her and he was wearing civilian clothes with a clerical collar. He was a Protestant chaplain in the RCN, he said.

But he wasn't content to let it go at that.

India-Pakistan Spy Plot Bared

NEW DELHI (AP)—An Indian clerk has been charged with providing secret information to a Pakistani diplomatic mission here and three members of the mission have been asked by India to leave the country.

A spokesman of the Indian external affairs ministry said the clerk, B. K. Bhattacharya, was apprehended last Friday at a time when certain material was being handed over by him to a member of the Pakistani high commission.

REPORTED TO POLICE

A woman, suspicious of his actions, telephoned the RCMP, who picked up the bogus minister and turned him over to the Victoria detachment, who handed him over to the navy. He is now on report while the navy investigates.

Bridge Results

Results of the weekly bridge tournament played at the Mosaic Hall on Wednesday were: North-South: Mr. and Mrs. Bill West, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. (Red) Hild, and Margaret Hild. East-West: Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hild, David Palmer and Jim Leung, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Maloney, Rose and Dorothy White.

Supreme Soviet Ousts Marshal

MOSCOW (AP)—Marshal Sergei Varentsov, whose name was brought up in the Penkovsky-Wynne spy case, has been expelled from the Supreme Soviet (parliament) yesterday.

Varentsov opposed expulsion of Col. Oleg Penkovsky from the service. Penkovsky was shot for passing military secrets to U.S. and British embassy officials. Greville Wynne, British businessman, was sentenced to eight years for acting as a courier.

Whisky, Bottles,

Etc.

One day while we were contemplating a number of our Wiskey's whiskies, in different bottles, each with brilliantly individualistic labels, we were struck by the absurdity of the whole thing. We are not really selling bottles, or labels... just good Wiskey's Canadian whisky. So we decided to select just one good bottle and try it for most of our different brands. We chose our squarish bottle... attractive, popular, easy to handle, easy to use. The whisky, as always with Wiskey's, is older than other whiskies on the board in virtually every price class. Thus if a mellow age-in-wood interests you, you will find Wiskey's offers just about the best values in whisky today.

Lassie Can't Help Loving That Baby

Dog May Die for Love

LONDON (AP)—Lassie—a young and affectionate collie—may have to die because she loves a baby too much.

The baby, is 11-month-old Leslie Hart.

"We don't want to have the dog put down (killed)," said Leslie's mother, Mrs. Margaret Hart, "but I'm getting worried."

She said every time the dog sees the little boy, she jumps on him, knocking him over and smothering him with kisses.

"I can't afford to take a chance," explained the child's mother. "I've got to think of my baby before the dog."

Mrs. Hart is a busy mother. She has six other children. The eldest is 13. They've pleaded with their mother not to have Lassie destroyed.

"We've tried to find a home for the dog," said Mrs. Hart, "but no one seems to want her."

Mrs. Hart said if someone doesn't take the dog by Friday she will have Lassie put away.

Mrs. Hart's eldest child, 13-year-old Eric, has put a sign in the front window of his home pleading for someone to give Lassie a home.

"We're going to start praying, too," said Eric.

Sell Pension Plan LaMarsh Advised

Knowles

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Democrat Stanley Knowles Thursday urged Health Minister Judy LaMarsh to enlist the aid of her fellow Liberals and any other willing members to counteract the "disgraceful" campaign the private insurance companies are waging against the Canada pension plan.

Mr. Knowles said he believed the contributory, portable scheme the government has planned can be successfully sold to the Canadian public.

"I'm sure the Liberal members are looking for something to do," Knowles said.

He then suggested that members of all parties be given material by the health department to conduct a public education campaign. Even the Conservative party members, he added, would probably be willing to help out.

Federal

Commons Approval Virtually Certain

VOTING AT 18

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons elections committee Thursday decided to recommend to Parliament that the voting age be lowered to 18 years from 21.

Little Less Gravy

OTTAWA (CP)—That "little bit of patronage" in the Elections Act apparently is on the way out.

The Commons elections committee Thursday decided to recommend that Parliament abolish a requirement that all returning officers lose their jobs automatically when Parliament makes wholesale amendments to the Canada Elections Act.

Earlier this week Frank Howard (NDP—Skeena) objected to the requirement and the committee instructed Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, to prepare changes eliminating it.

Mr. Castonguay produced the proposed changes Thursday and they were adopted by the committee, which will recommend Parliament pass them.

Without a dissenting voice, the committee approved a series of amendments to the Canada Elections Act which will place an additional 750,000 Canadians on the voting rolls if approved by Parliament.

It is understood that Commons approval of the committee's recommendation is virtually certain because of agreement among the political parties to take the step.

He said the voting age in P.E.I. elections is tied to the federal voting age. The provincial government had given an undertaking to amend the province's current voting age of 21 to bring it into line with any change in the federal voting age.

The motion to lower the voting age was made by Maurice J. Moreau (L—York—Scarborough) who drew attention to the Liberals' 1963 election campaign promise to lower the voting age.

PRIVATE BILLS
It was seconded by Frank Howard (NDP—Skeena) who has presented several private bills to Parliament in the last few years on the same subject.

Heath Macquarrie (PC—Queens) said he has no objection to the step.

Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, informed the committee he had anticipated voting by 18-year-olds would be proposed and consequently had prepared a series of amendments to the act with the age left blank.

There were immediately put to use with age 18 inserted and the committee adopted them.

PUBLICITY

Vincent Drouin (L—Argenteuil—Deux-Montagnes) said the idea of lowering the age had received a good deal of publicity in recent years. The Liberals put it in their 1963 election platform.

Mr. Howard, at whom Mr. Drouin had aimed these remarks, said that when the elections committee last considered the idea in 1960 the Liberals were opposed to it, especially State Reservations.

Mr. Macquarrie said that at that time he had reservations about the reduction but that was because he took stock of what younger electors had done in some of the provincial elections.

(Saskatchewan, which has a voting age of 18, Alberta and British Columbia, which have Social Credit governments, have voting ages of 19, Quebec, which has a Liberal government, lowered the age to 18 from 21 last summer.)

21 OR OVER

One consequence of lowering the voting age is that election candidates now may also come from the younger age group. At present, candidates also must be age 21 or over.

The addition of 750,000 new voters—if approved by Parliament—would at one step add more voters to the list than there now are in any one of seven of the 10 provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, P.E.I., Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

'Good Idea' —Reaction

Suggestion from Ottawa maturity which justified their that the federal voting age should be reduced from 21 to 18 has met with approval in two quarters here.

Dean R. T. Wallace of the University of Victoria said that it was a "very good idea."

"These people are mature and reliable. They should have the opportunity to vote," he said.

Larry Devlin, president of the student council at the university, also felt that students age and the federal age, he at 18 had reached a level of thought.

Peace Researchers Find:

Most Canadians Favor Nuclear Arms

TORONTO (CP)—A majority of Canadians believes Canada's acquisition of nuclear weapons raises the risk of atomic war but most still supported the move, the Canadian Peace Research Institute says.

A survey of attitudes on disarmament, defence and foreign policy published Thursday by the institute also indicates most Canadian voters support the sale of grain to Communist China. A majority says that country should be admitted to the United Nations and included in disarmament talks.

Among other findings of the wide-ranging opinion survey: Most Canadians favor a strong United Nations organization, support disarmament with adequate safeguards, believe disarmament would cause at the most a minor economic recession.

The 20,000-word report on the survey, to be published in pamphlet form, represents the first major research project completed by the institute which was established as a non-profit organization two years ago under Oakville physicist Norman Alcock to use scientific techniques in seeking causes and cures for war. It is supported by public donation and foundation grants.

The report on Canadian attitudes towards public and international issues, directed by John Paul, former professor at the University of Western Ontario, is based on a 60-question poll started a year ago among a cross-section of Canadian voters. Comparative surveys were made among special groups such as business-

Hall a Three-Ring Circus

Municipal Employees Play 'Musical Chairs'

By JACK FRY

Saanich property owners will decide by referendum on Dec. 5 whether they want a new municipal hall, but few of them realize what kind of a three-ring circus goes on inside the old building.

Timing is a big thing inside the cramped municipal hall at Royal Oak, where employees move with clockwork precision to keep from bumping into each other while conducting municipal affairs.

On a rainy day when some employees don't go home for lunch, you may see somebody eating at his desk because all chairs are taken in the two-shift lunchroom.

A Colonist reporter dropped in unannounced yesterday to see if conditions at the 52-year-old municipal hall are as bad as council would have the voters believe, in asking their approval for a new $785,000 hall to be built on Vernon Avenue.

Reeve Stanley Murphy's eight-by-ten-foot cubby-hole office was occupied by the municipal solicitor and another man. Reeve Murphy arrived at the hall and borrowed the far side of comptroller-treasurer John Tribe's desk to sign outgoing cheques.

At other times, the little office with no window and no ventilation is used by assistant municipal clerk Alan Ford for dictating committee meeting minutes away from the hubbub of the general office.

Wait Turn

Employees complained that women often have to wait their turn to use an "inadequate rest room."

In one corner of the front office, a person has to wait for a typewriter carriage to slide back before there is room enough to walk past the desk.

Basement Work

But the surprise package in the basement furnace room where three people were busy getting water bills ready to send out. A duplicating machine used for preparation of all corporation minutes and bylaws is located here, along with the bill inserting machine and a posting machine.

The surplus army hut used as a council chamber behind the municipal hall is "not large enough, and has the public virtually sitting right behind members of the council," said Reeve Murphy.

Must Rent Hall

"And for any large scale public hearing we have to rent the community hall next door."

The first municipal hall was built in 1911. Additions were made to the building in 1915 and again in 1948. Surplus army huts were moved to the site in 1958, as council took drastic action to make up for what was described as a "totally inadequate" situation.

Not Enough Space

Development in the municipality has accelerated so fast in recent years that "the present facilities including the temporary army huts have been insufficient for the necessary office space for the past two years," states a leaflet prepared by corporation officials in connection with the Dec. 5 referendum.

Camp Mishap Kills Son of Lumberman

Machine Slides In Lake

TOFINO—Richard (Vickie) Craig, 20, member of a well-known Vancouver Island family, was drowned yesterday in Kennedy Lake in a logging accident.

He was the oldest son of Samuel Craig, mining and logging operator on the island, and Mrs. Craig.

MACHINE IN LAKE

He was working at his father's C and B Logging Camp at Kennedy Lake when the log-loading machine on which he was working slipped into the lake, taking him with it.

The body was soon recovered and brought to hospital here.

WORKING TWO YEARS

Richard Craig was born in Lake Cowichan, educated here and at Ucluelet, and had been working for his father for two years.

He is survived by a younger brother and four sisters.

No announcement has been made concerning an inquest and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Behind a maze of valves and asbestos-covered pipes and furnace in the basement of old municipal hall, Ann Mather gets stack of water bills ready for Leslie Johns who is running inserting machine.

Parking

Towing Contract Readied

A contract will be signed yesterday with Victoria Super Service Towing to provide tow-away service and storage for vehicles parked illegally in restricted zones during rush hours.

The scale of fees approved yesterday by city council is: towing from downtown location, $4; towing from outside the half-mile circle, $5.50; storage downtown, 50 cents; additional storage exceeding 12 hours, 50 cents per day.

Council instructed city solicitor T. P. O'Grady to prepare the necessary bylaw, which must be finally approved before the new tow-away plan goes into effect. This will probably be in January.

Council approved Ald. Austin Curtis' resolution that "the strongest possible representations" be made to Ottawa for award of contracts to build three new submarines for the RCN in Canadian shipyards.

VITALITY IMPORTANT

Ald. Curtis said the importance of shipbuilding to B.C. and in particular to Victoria is such that no opportunity should be lost to urge the government to patronize Canadian industry.

Saanich, Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Victoria Labor Council and the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to add their voice to the city's plea.

Copies will be sent to Mayor Wilson in Ottawa, to David Cross, Liberal MP for Victoria, and to Defence Minister Paul Hellyer who recently announced that the three submarines would be built for Canada in the U.K.

Finance committee next week will consider the question of tax exemption for private schools in a new light. This time it is the question of exempting a portion of a building used for school purposes that will be discussed.

The issue arose yesterday during discussions of a requested tax exemption for Westernham School because one of the two buildings is 26 per cent residential.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said any portion of building which is being used for school purposes should be exempt from taxes. He added: "Private schools save the taxpayers a great deal of money and they need every dollar they can save to keep operating."

Council approved a salary increase for Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer for Greater Victoria metropolitan board of health. Effective Jan. 1 his salary will jump from $12,480 to $14,640 per annum.

City Barbers All Mixed Up

Parade Canvass Today

The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will begin a financial canvass of merchants today for the Nov. 23 Santa Claus parade and for downtown Christmas decorations.

About 250 merchants are to be approached by Tuesday.

Cost of the parade, about $3,000, is to be borne largely by the Jaycees, but a spokesman last night said they will need help from the merchants.

The parade will begin at 10 a.m. at Government and Belleville Streets and go east to Douglas and north on Douglas to Elphinstone, where it will disperse.

Other planned Jaycee Christmas projects are a "Christmas ship" taking Santa to the Gulf Islands, Christmas parties for children and the Jaycee Christmas decorations contest.

The controversy over barbershop closing reached a stalemate yesterday amid a welter of confusion.

City council heard eight conflicting letters, petitions and briefs on the subject, including a petition submitted earlier Thursday asking aldermen to forget the whole thing.

Lawyer G. A. Neely presented a brief and a petition signed by 39 of the city's 52 licensed barbers who asked city council not to act on a committee recommendation to remove all regulations on barber shops, which now must close Wednesday.

If this was done, said Mr. Neely, a "very great hardship" would be imposed upon the operators of the 32 one-man barber shops in the city.

He said the local barbers' union, with support of barbers elsewhere in the province, was seeking an amendment to the Municipal Act which would permit individual barbers an option on what day they wished to close.

Meanwhile, he urged council to leave the present bylaw in force.

Some of the 39 barbers who signed this petition repudiated their support of an earlier petition—bearing 24 names and asking Monday closing—which started the whole thing.

Since then council has received: the committee's recommendation; a brief from Al Prince supporting the Monday closing petition; a 27-merchandise petition from Mayfair shopping centre urging Monday closing; a letter from the barbers' union denouncing the Monday closing petition; and a letter from barber Syrt Wolter objecting to any closing regulations by council.

"All of us are confused, including the barbers," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow. "With all the confusion there's no doubt that the whole matter should go back to the legislative committee for further study."

Candidates To Speak

NORTH COWICHAN—Members of the North Cowichan council seeking re-election are expected to explain their platform at the annual meeting of the Southend Ratepayers' Association next Tuesday, at the North Cowichan Southend fire hall at 8 p.m.

Seeking re-election are Reeve Donald Morton, whose seat will be contested by Councillor Tony Staples resigning his seat in mid-term, and Councillors Mrs. Elaine Dobbins and Reginald Clegg, running for their present positions.

INCREASE IN SEATS

Beginning next year the North Cowichan Council will have seven seats instead of the present five.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Others declaring their ambition to become councillors are: David A. Barr, Jaynes Road; John Cannon, Beverley Street; Charles Douglas, Chemainus; George Whittaker, Herd Road, and Michael McKenna, Crofton.

Mr. Barr was defeated by a small margin two years ago; Mr. Cannon and Mr. McKenna are newcomers to the civic scene, and Mr. Douglas and Mr. Whittaker were one-time councillors here. The latter was also a former member of the Cowichan School board.

Survivors include his widow; three children, Judy, 13, Danny, 10, and Laurie, 3; and his mother Mrs. Rosanna Grimard of Victoria. Funeral services will be held at Stevens chapel Saturday at 3 p.m.

Man's Guilty Plea Ends Long Case

NANAIMO — A conspiracy case involving four men which has been in and out of court for some months was closed Thursday with the conviction of the fourth man, Barry Erwin Keele.

The three other men, all serving sentences of six months, were Maurice Phillon, W. E. Gratto and F. McNabb.

Phillon, Gratto and McNabb were sentenced by Judge Arnold Hanna in County Court here but police had not located Keele at the time of their trial.

The charge against all the defendants was that they had conspired to pass forged cheques of a Victoria firm in Nanaimo.

NANAIMO — Two drivers charged with impaired driving pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Eric Winch Tuesday.

E. J. Murphy said not guilty to an impaired driving charge following an incident on Terminal Avenue Nov. 10.

Philip A. Fink also pleaded not guilty to a similar charge and was remanded to Dec. 12 for trial.

Henry Conlin pleaded guilty to failure to stop after an accident which caused heavy damage but no injuries. Police said that Conlin had first told them that his car was stolen but later withdrew the statement. Magistrate Winch fined Conlin $75 and suspended his driver's licence.

A wife pleaded guilty for her husband, W. W. Addison, on a speeding charge. He was fined $15.

When Sir Robert's gin recipe came from England, this old "cooking pot" came too

The best cooks are usually faithful to their oldest pots and pans.

Same thing with us. In distilling Sterling Gin, we feel lost without our old English copper Pot Still.

The one in the picture is at least 100 years old. It came to Canada in the 1920's—when we imported Burnett's entire distillery to make gin from Sir Robert Burnett's famous old English formula.

Most modern stills are much larger—as much as 10 times larger. And we know that switching to such mass-producing monsters would save us money, time and trouble.

But our gin wouldn't taste the same.

The way things are, we make it slowly—just a little at a time. Hovering over it. Sniffing. Tasting. Making sure every "run" is as smooth and dry as the last.

If we ever retire these miniature stills, it will only be because we can no longer afford to make our Sterling Gin in small, unharmed batches.

Cowichan Piano Fund Gaining

DUNCAN — The Cowichan Music Festival Piano Fund committee is making great strides in repaying its share towards the $5010 second-hand grand piano which was introduced to the public at a recent concert here of two Vancouver artists.

Chairman of the fund committee, Mrs. Stan Robertson said the concert netted $475, and with an additional surplus of $725 was paid towards the instrument.

The Cowichan school board which pledged to pay $2,400 towards the instrument in equal annual instalments, has so far contributed $800, which was included in the $2,000 down payment made several weeks ago.

The sum remaining to be paid amounts to $2,315, of which the board will carry $1,600, and the piano fund committee, $715.

Mrs. Robertson said proceeds from the final night of next March's annual Cowichan Music Festival will be used towards the piano.

Nanaimo Air Cadets Given Trophy

NANAIMO — Nanaimo Air Cadets received their trophy for being the best cadets in B.C. at a ceremony Wednesday night at the drill hall at the Nanaimo army camp.

B. O. Mayne, past president of the Air Cadet League of B.C. made the presentation.

WO1 Norman Swanson accepted the trophy for the squadron, watched by the cadets lined up in parade formation.

Flt. Lt. Nelson, liaison officer at Comox air base, took the salute in the march past of cadets.

A swearing-in ceremony of new cadets was conducted by Flt. Lt. Chris Jack.

Capt. Barry Morris, of Cassidair Air Services, presented wings to WO1 Swanson. The wings are emblematic of a flying scholarship awarded annually.

The award is made to the top cadet in the squadron for the past year.

As well as the D. B. McLaren trophy for the best B.C. squadron, Nanaimo cadets won the Mount Benson Legion trophy for best cadets corps on the Nanaimo Empire Day parade and the B. O. Mayne trophy for the best squadron in the Vancouver Island Competition.

Britons Open-Minded

B.C. Mission Busy

LONDON (CP) — A 24-man British Columbia timber and housing mission, reporting on a two-week tour of Britain, said yesterday leaders in the building industry here are "extremely open-minded" on the prospects of adopting Canada-style frame construction methods.

So far, the mission, headed by R.C. Attorney-General and Industrial Development Minister Bonner, has visited London, Leeds, Manchester and Glasgow to talk with builders, engineers, architects and officials of local councils, mortgage and insurance firms.

THOROUGH QUERIES

"They came" questioned us pretty thoroughly," said R. M. Hoffmeister, deputy leader of the mission, "and we gave them very complete answers."

The Canadians, on the other hand, got a better understanding of building problems here and of the government's aim in fight the housing shortage by increasing building from the present 300,000 units a year to 400,000.

ROOF PLAN CITED

Mission spokesman said people in the building trade are particularly interested in the Canadian method of erecting the roof early in construction so that workmen can keep on the job despite poor weather. This would represent a major economy in Britain where rain often causes lengthy delays.

Also, unlike the British system, electricity is installed at the work site immediately in Canada so power tools can be employed.

Hoffmeister said builders were attracted by such economies but to take full advantage they would have to engage in long-term organization in planning and in ordering materials in bulk.

Lassie Can't Help Loving That Baby

Dog May Die for Love

LONDON (AP)—Lassie—a young and affectionate collie—may have to die because she loves a baby too much.

The baby is 11-month-old Lennie Hart.

"We don't want to have the dog put down (killed)," said Lennie's mother, Mrs. Margaret Hart, "but I'm getting worried."

She said every time the dog sees the little boy, she jumps on him, knocks him over and smothered him with kisses.

"I can't afford to take a chance," explained the child's mother. "I've got to think of my baby before the dog."

Mrs. Hart is a busy mother. She has six other children. The eldest is 12. They've pleaded with their mother not to have Lassie destroyed.

"We've tried to find a home for the dog," said Mrs. Hart, "but no one seems to want her."

Mrs. Hart said if someone doesn't take the dog by Friday she will have Lassie put away.

Mrs. Hart's eldest child, 13-year-old Eric, has put a sign in the front window of his home pleading for someone to give Lassie a home.

"We're going to start praying, too," said Eric.

OTTAWA (CP)—That "little bit of patronage" in the Elections Act apparently is on the way out.

The Commons elections committee Thursday decided to recommend that Parliament abolish a requirement that all returning officers lose their jobs automatically when Parliament makes wholesale amendments to the Canada Elections Act.

Earlier this week Frank Howard (NDP—Skeena) objected to the requirement and the committee instructed Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, to prepare changes eliminating it.

Mr. Castonguay produced the proposed changes Thursday and they were adopted by the committee, which will recommend Parliament pass them.

VOTING AT 18

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons elections committee Thursday decided to recommend to Parliament that the voting age be lowered to 18 years from 21.

Without a dissenting voice, the committee approved a series of amendments to the Canada Elections Act which will place an additional 750,000 Canadians on the voting rolls if approved by Parliament.

It is understood that Commons approval of the committee's recommendation is virtually certain because of agreement among the political parties to take the step.

The motion to lower the voting age was made by Maurice J. Moreau (L—York—Scarborough) who drew attention to the Liberals' 1963 election campaign promise to lower the voting age.

He said the voting age in P.E.I. elections is tied to the federal voting age. The provincial government had given an undertaking to amend the province's current voting age of 21 to bring it into line with any change in the federal voting age.

Denunciation Broadcast

Russians Learn Of JFK Anger

MOSCOW (UPI)—A sixth demand by the United States for the immediate release of Yale University Prof. Frederick Barghoorn and a stern denunciation of the Soviet action by President Kennedy raised cautious hopes Thursday night he might be freed.

Radio Moscow's prompt broadcast of Kennedy's assertion Barghoorn was innocent of Soviet spy charges and the incident's "negative impact" on the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program was considered significant. The Tass news agency added that Kennedy called the arrest "unwarranted and unjust."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy declared Thursday that negotiations with the Russians on a new cultural exchange program have been postponed as "hopeless" as long as Yale Prof. Frederick Barghoorn is held prisoner by the Soviets on trumped-up spy charges.

Kennedy, at a news conference, denounced the arrest and imprisonment of Dr. Barghoorn as "unwarranted and unjust."

Kennedy added: "I just say there is no sense having a program if a man who is innocent of any intelligence mission, which is true in this case, is subjected to arrest and without means of defence. How can you carry on that kind of a program?"

But countering the optimism was another Tass dispatch sharply attacking the state department for erecting an "iron curtain" around a Soviet scientific and cultural delegation now visiting Washington.

The delegation, led by N. N. Blokhin, president of the Institute of Soviet-American Relations, arrived in the United States and "so much unbalanced the U.S. department of state that its leaders, forgetting elementary decency, launched such an anti-Soviet hysterical campaign, which even Sen. Telezhnikov, a close ally of the U.S. State Department, could not ignore."

Tass said.

Tass called the isolation of the group "shameful," disgraceful" and a step back "to the worst days of the cold war."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A tunnel under the River Thames, first proposed in 1799, will open here Monday. Original estimated cost was $44,000. The new tunnel has cost $30,000,000.

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Democrat Stanley Knowles Thursday urged Health Minister Judy LaMarsh to enlist the aid of her fellow Liberals and any other willing members to counteract the "disgraceful" campaign the private insurance companies are waging against the Canada pension plan.

Mr. Knowles said he believed the contributory, portable scheme the government has planned can be successfully sold to the Canadian public.

"I'm sure the Liberal members are looking for something to do," Knowles said.

He then suggested that members of all parties be given material by the health department to conduct a public education campaign. Even the conservative party members, he added, would probably be willing to help out.

One consequence of lowering the voting age is that election candidates now may also come from the younger age group. At present, candidates also must be age 21 or over.

The addition of 750,000 new voters—if approved by Parliament—would at one step add more voters to the list than there now are in any one of seven of the 10 provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, P.E.I., Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The 20,000-word report on the survey, to be published in pamphlet form, represents the first major research project completed by the Institute which was established as a non-profit organization two years ago under Oakville physicist Norman Alcock to use scientific techniques in seeking causes and cures for war. It is supported by public donation and foundation grants.

Tougher Picketing Laws Fines, Jail Terms Asked

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

Tougher picketing laws with penalties of $500 fines and three-month jail terms were sought at a closed-door cabinet session yesterday by a Canadian Manufacturers' Association delegation.

The group sought new amendments to B.C.'s controversial Bill 43.

One would prohibit picketing of a company's branch operations where a dispute was confined to a single plant or store. (See also Page 37.)

Another would make it illegal to picket without written authorization from the president and secretary of a trade union.

Spokesmen for the delegation said the cabinet gave them a "cordial reception."

The meeting was originally intended to be a secret affair so far as the CMA was concerned.

When reporters discovered the nine-man delegation in a room near the cabinet chamber members said they weren't seeking any publicity.

"You weren't supposed to know we were here," said one. Continued on Page 3

Soldier's Charge Reduced

ESPAÑOLA, Ont. (CP)—A soldier originally charged with non-capital murder in the street fight death of a teen-ager, was committed Thursday for Supreme Court trial on a reduced charge of manslaughter.

Magistrate Anthony Falsetta said at a preliminary hearing here there was not sufficient evidence of intent to commit murder.

Joseph Landriault, 21, a member of the Queen's Own Rifles, on the original charge.

AFTER FIGHT

Landriault was charged after an Oct. 31 fight in Massey, 35 miles west of Sudbury, which resulted in the death of Bruce Robinson, 18. The youth died in a Sudbury hospital of brain injuries received from a skull fracture when he fell backwards onto the pavement.

Landriault was being transferred from West Germany to Victoria and was on leave at the time at the home of his sister.

Runaway Cars Crash Miner

MEXBOROUGH, England (Reuters)—A coal miner was crushed to death near here Thursday when runaway mine cars crashed 2,000 feet underground into a locomotive transporting men. Three of 70 other miners were injured and 36 treated for shock. The Cadeby coal mine is in northern England.

Bullet in Ear, Out Mouth Nine-Year-Old Survives

TWO HARBORS, Minn. (AP)—Roger Olson, nine, was crossing a field after leaving a school bus Wednesday when he was struck by a stray bullet. It entered his ear and went out his mouth, without hitting bone or tooth. He was reported in good condition in hospital.

Sell Pension Plan LaMarsh Advised

Knowles

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Democrat Stanley Knowles Thursday urged Health Minister Judy LaMarsh to enlist the aid of her fellow Liberals and any other willing members to counteract the "disgraceful" campaign the private insurance companies are waging against the Canada pension plan.

Mr. Knowles said he believed the contributory, portable scheme the government has planned can be successfully sold to the Canadian public.

"I'm sure the Liberal members are looking for something to do," Knowles said.

He then suggested that members of all parties be given material by the health department to conduct a public education campaign. Even the conservative party members, he added, would probably be willing to help out.

One consequence of lowering the voting age is that election candidates now may also come from the younger age group. At present, candidates also must be age 21 or over.

The addition of 750,000 new voters—if approved by Parliament—would at one step add more voters to the list than there now are in any one of seven of the 10 provinces—Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, P.E.I., Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Peace Researchers Find:

Most Canadians Favor Nuclear Arms

TORONTO (CP)—A majority of Canadians believes Canada's acquisition of nuclear weapons raises the risk of atomic war but most still supported the move, the Canadian Peace Research Institute says.

A survey of attitudes on disarmament, defence and foreign policy published Thursday by the institute also indicates most Canadian voters support the sale of grain to Communist China. A majority says that country should be admitted to the United Nations and included in disarmament talks.

Among other findings of the wide-ranging opinion survey: Most Canadians favor a strong United Nations organization, support disarmament with adequate safeguards, believe disarmament would cause at the most a minor economic recession.
